

Tiaraa Hotels and Resorts Sees Jim Corbett Emerging as a Destination Wedding Hotspot

Ramnagar, Uttarakhand Oct 29, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - A quiet change is taking place in the Indian wedding scene. More couples are leaving behind the bustle of city hotels and turning to the calm of Jim Corbett for their celebrations. Tiaraa Hotels and Resorts, which operates one of the region's most recognized properties, has seen a noticeable rise in destination wedding in Jim Corbett over the last few years.

Tucked among forests and foothills, Jim Corbett has become a place where people come to tie the knot surrounded by nature. The appeal is simple: fresh air, open skies, and a sense of calm that modern cities rarely offer. Families can enjoy a few days together rather than rush through back-to-back functions.

Abhishek Mittal, Chief Executive Officer of Tiaraa Hotels and Resorts, said the idea of a destination wedding in Jim Corbett fits the mood of today's generation. "Couples are more aware of what they want.

They look for places that reflect who they are—peaceful, natural, yet comfortable. Corbett gives that feeling right away,” he said.

Most resorts in Jim Corbett have adapted quickly to meet this demand. Lawns and open spaces have replaced closed banquet halls. Décor is simpler, often using local flowers and materials. The goal, according to planners, is to let the landscape speak for itself.

For Tiaraa, the change has also brought a sense of community involvement. Local vendors now handle food, flowers, and logistics, keeping much of the income within the area. Small businesses, from photographers to transport operators, have found steady work through the wedding season.

“Every wedding supports several local families. That’s the part we are proud of,” said Sidharth Goel, Chairman and Managing Director of Tiaraa Hotels and Resorts. “When guests choose Corbett, they are not only getting a beautiful venue but also helping an entire local network thrive.”

The rise in weddings has encouraged resorts to adopt more sustainable practices. Plastic use has dropped. Energy-efficient lighting, solar water heating, and eco-friendly waste systems are becoming common. Couples often ask for options that minimize their event’s footprint without losing comfort.

Accessibility has also played a role in the region’s popularity. The drive from Delhi or nearby cities takes less than six hours, making it a convenient location even for large family gatherings. Unlike hill stations or distant coastal venues, Corbett offers the same sense of escape without the travel strain.

Guests attending weddings here usually stay longer than they would in city settings. Many combine the event with wildlife safaris, nature walks, or short vacations. This has made destination weddings in Jim Corbett not just a trend, but a complete experience that blends celebration with leisure.

Mittal believes this change is permanent. “People are looking for meaning. They don’t want to compete over scale anymore. They want to remember how it felt to be there, surrounded by family and nature. That emotion lasts longer than decoration or glamour,” he said.

Goel added that Tiaraa aims to grow with the region, not ahead of it. “Our goal is to host beautiful weddings without losing sight of what makes Corbett special—the silence, the greenery, the sense of balance. Growth must come with care,” he said.

As more families discover this destination, the focus remains on responsible tourism. Industry experts say the long-term success of Jim Corbett’s wedding industry will depend on keeping its environment intact and maintaining consistent hospitality standards.

Jim Corbett has quietly transformed into a wedding hub that offers something cities cannot: a natural rhythm and unhurried pace. For couples, it’s a place that turns a few days of celebration into lasting memories.
