

A Magical Friendship blooms in New coloring book launching November 15.

In this enchanting new children's release, a little girl discovers a talking flower in her mother's garden-and together they embark on a colorful adventure of friendship, imagination, and wonder.

Chester, Virginia Nov 15, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - A delightful new children's coloring book is set to launch this November 15, 2025, inviting young readers into a whimsical world where imagination, friendship, and creativity blossom one page at a time.

Titled "A Rose for Rayne", the story follows a curious little girl who stumbles upon a magical talking flower in a quiet garden. What begins as a simple conversation turns into an unforgettable friendship-told through charming illustrations children can bring to life with their own colors.

"I wanted to create more than a coloring book-I wanted to spark conversation, love and friendship" says Ronald Robinson, the book's creator. "The friendship and love between the girl and the flower shows kids that kindness and curiosity can lead to beautiful things."

Perfect for ages 4 to 10, the book blends storytelling and coloring activities to help children:

- *Explore themes of friendship, emotional expression, and creativity

- *Practice fine motor skills and mindfulness

- * Step away from screens and into a story they help bring to life

Whether gifted during the holidays or enjoyed in a classroom, "A Rose for Rayne" makes a heartwarming and creative addition to any child's book shelf.

You can pre-order the book at RonaldPicturebooks@gmail.com .The book will be available on Amazon for $ 8.99 starting November 15, 2025. During Live events when you purchase 3 or more books, Rayne will gift you a FREE 4 pack of crayons. One per reader, while supplies last!
