

Amanda DeCoste, RN, BSN: Exemplifying Excellence and Compassion in Nursing

Making a Lasting Impact as a Case Management Nurse at Interim HealthCare of the Upstate and Midlands in Greer, South Carolina

Greer, South Carolina Nov 5, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Amanda DeCoste, RN, BSN, is a dedicated healthcare professional whose commitment to patient care and compassion sets her apart in the nursing field. With a diverse background and a wealth of experience, Amanda is making a significant impact as a Case Management Nurse at Interim HealthCare of the Upstate and Midlands.

Amanda began her journey in healthcare by completing her pre-nursing studies at Western Illinois University in 2007. Her passion for nursing led her to earn a Bachelor of Science in Nursing Degree from Chamberlain University in 2019, solidifying her commitment to provide exceptional care to her patients and their families.

Since joining Interim HealthCare in August 2021, Amanda has worked tirelessly to ensure that her patients receive the best possible care. Her role as a Case Management Nurse involves coordinating patient care, providing support and guidance to families, and advocating for patients' needs. Amanda's unique approach combines her extensive nursing knowledge with genuine compassion, making her a valuable asset to her team and the community.

Throughout her career, Amanda has gained experience in various healthcare settings, adapting to the dynamic nature of nursing. She has demonstrated flexibility by providing care without the need for extensive floor orientation, showcasing her ability to thrive in challenging environments. Her responsibilities have included administering medication, transcribing physician orders, drawing labs, and conducting home health research studies, as well as managing home health infusions. Amanda has treated patients across a spectrum of health conditions, spanning pediatrics, adults, and geriatrics.

One of Amanda's key strengths is her proficiency in utilizing advanced charting systems, such as PointClick and Vision, ensuring efficient and accurate documentation of patient care. This technical expertise, combined with her innate compassion, allows her to deliver holistic and effective nursing care.

Amanda attributes her success in nursing to her unwavering passion for helping others. This dedication not only drives her professional journey but also inspires those around her. As she continues to advocate for her patients and their families, Amanda DeCoste exemplifies the heart and soul of nursing, proving that compassion and care are at the core of the profession.
