Providing Exceptional Pediatric Care at UT Health East Texas and Shaping Future Healthcare Professionals as an Assistant Professor at UT Tyler School of Medicine

Henderson, Texas Nov 25, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Ana R Bloch Muradas, MD, is a dedicated, board-certified pediatrician practicing at UT Health East Texas Physicians- Family Medicine and Pediatrics (Chandler). With over 20 years of experience, Dr. Bloch Muradas is dedicated to providing exceptional healthcare to children from newborns through age 18. She also serves as an Assistant Professor at The University of Texas at Tyler Health Science Center under the UT Tyler School of Medicine, further contributing to the education of future healthcare professionals.

Dr. Bloch Muradas' passion for medicine began as a lifelong dream to care for others, providing healing and comfort when possible. Her clinical interests include pediatric infectious diseases, child development, and nutrition. With a diverse background that spans various healthcare systems and countries, she has developed into a highly adaptable and empathetic clinician, adept at delivering comprehensive care in diverse settings. Dr. Bloch Muradas firmly believes that investing in children's health, growth, and education is crucial to building a healthier society, and she is committed to supporting families through every stage of their child's development.

Scholastically, Dr. Bloch Muradas earned her Doctor of Medicine Degree from the Medical School of Triângulo Mineiro in Uberaba and completed two pediatric residencies—one at the University of São Paulo and another at New York Medical College/Metropolitan Hospital, where she served as Chief Resident. She also completed a fellowship in pediatric infectious diseases at the University of São Paulo.

Before joining UT Health, Dr. Bloch Muradas served as a Primary Care Pediatrician at The Dimock Center in Boston. Earlier in her career, she practiced pediatrics at Hospital Infantil João Paulo II in Brazil, gaining valuable international experience in child healthcare.

Dr. Bloch Muradas is board-certified by the American Board of Pediatrics and is a proud member of esteemed organizations, including the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Medical Association, and the Texas Medical Association. She takes great joy in watching children grow and develop, emphasizing the importance of listening to and comforting her patients.

Her dedication to child health extends beyond the clinic. In 2005, Dr. Bloch Muradas volunteered to assist underserved communities along the Amazon River. From 2011 to 2014, she provided leadership for a team of healthcare workers supporting communities in need in Belo Horizonte, MG, Brazil. In 2012, she participated in a philanthropic mission to Niger, Africa, working alongside healthcare professionals to deliver critical care. Since 2015, Dr. Bloch Muradas has continued her volunteer efforts closer to home, presenting talks on pediatric and other medical topics for the Brazilian community living in the United States.

As a member of the UT Health East Texas team, Dr. Ana R. Bloch Muradas brings a deep commitment to pediatric care and community service, making a meaningful impact on the families she serves.
