Manila, Luzon Nov 22, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Books To Life Marketing proudly presents The Third Heaven and the Unutterable Things That Can Now Be Told by Jim Strahan, a deeply insightful and spiritually enriching work that takes readers beyond earthly understanding and into the profound mysteries of heaven. Through biblical analysis, inspired revelation, and logical reasoning, Strahan illuminates the “third heaven” as described by the Apostle Paul, offering readers a greater understanding of God's grace and His eternal plan for humanity.

Quote from the Author

"In Ephesians 2, verse 7, as Paul was speaking to the Church, he foretold that in the ages to come, the richness of God's grace in His kindness toward us, as revealed through His Son, would surpass even our own Christian expectations. True to these words, what God has recently revealed to me about the third heaven has far exceeded my previous expectations, and I am confident that it will do the same for others. My desire is to pass along the peace and comfort this new knowledge has generated in my life."

About the Book

In The Third Heaven and the Unutterable Things That Can Now Be Told, Jim Strahan demonstrates how the writings of Moses, John, and Paul align to reveal three distinct resurrections—each pointing toward the ultimate revelation of the third heaven. This thought-provoking work traces a divine pattern of "threes" from Genesis to Revelation, uncovering twenty-one examples that guide readers to a deeper understanding of Scripture's unity and divine design.

What sets this book apart is its blend of spiritual revelation, scholarly analysis, and historical insight, making complex theological concepts accessible and deeply meaningful to readers seeking truth.

The book has already garnered strong praise from scholars and thought leaders:

- David Konstan, former Professor of Classics at NYU and Brown University, remarked:
"You know what you have to say is important, and you invite your reader to carry on a dialogue. You defend the idea of a third resurrection with due citation of texts and make a very strong case for it."
- Boyd Purcell, Ph.D., noted:
"I am highly impressed with Jim Strahan's ability to logically and systematically analyze The Holy Bible in depth, from historical, mathematical, and scientific perspectives."
- Michael Riley, Electrical Engineer and author, shared:
"To the prospective reader, I would encourage you to drink deeply from the ideas and arguments in Jim's book, for you have likely never heard or seen them before—a merging of Scriptures into a belief that today's Christianity in general not only does not teach, but likely has never even considered."

About the Author

Jim Strahan graduated from St. Mary's University in San Antonio, Texas, with a degree in mathematics and physics. He enjoyed a rewarding career as an Industrial Engineer at UPS before retiring from positions at The University of Texas in both Austin and San Antonio. Married and blessed with two children and five grandchildren, Strahan has spent much of his life serving others through faith.

While being transferred across the country with UPS, he served as a deacon, elder, and teacher in the churches he attended and co-hosted a Christian radio program for a year. He is also the author of The Brightness Around Him and co-author of Is God Fair? What About Gandhi?

Jim believes that The Third Heaven and the Unutterable Things That Can Now Be Told is the book he was born to write. He sees this work as a divine assignment—one that reveals how God writes the story of every life. As Jim explains, “He is the potter, and we are the clay.”

Media Feature

Jim Strahan recently completed an in-depth interview with Chris Voss on The Chris Voss Show, where he discussed his revelations about the third heaven, his writing journey, and the transformative message behind his new book.
