

KAMAR JAY RELEASES DEBUT SINGLE 'MOVE ON' FROM FORTHCOMING DEBUT ALBUM '...up until now' OUT MAY 29TH, 2026

kamar jay move on

Orlando, Florida Nov 14, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Kamar Jay has released 'Move On', his debut single, which will be available everywhere to buy and stream on Friday, November 28th, 2025. The song is the first taste from his much-anticipated forthcoming debut album '...up until now,' due on May 29th, 2026. Listen to the track HERE.

“I was deeply inspired to record this song after reflecting on the ways in which many of us need to set boundaries in order to protect our mind, our mental state.” Kamar shares. “I wanted to explore how easy it is for us to let our struggles affect us, even when we make a conscious effort to stop our secular life from destroying our well-being.”

The mid-tempo R&B and Electro-Pop track has a distinctly throwback feel and shares its sonic palette with other hits of a similar fashion, such as Are You That Somebody by Aaliyah, No Scrubs by TLC and Pony by Ginuwine. “I didn’t want this song to be a ballad,” states Kamar. “I wanted it to slot easily into a 90s playlist, the sort you’d put on at a house party, but I also wanted it to pack a punch with the lyrics once you started paying attention.”

Having spent the first 20 years of his life surrounded by the diverse soundscapes and genres that permeate through London, England, Kamar moved with his family to the USA over a decade ago. During that time, he’s spent a lot of his time writing lyrics and recording voice notes of random melodies that have now culminated into his debut album, Up Until Now.

“The album is a reflection of everything I’ve been through, as well as the trauma I and my family have experienced. I want to share an array of sounds that influence my music, from R&B to Indie Pop, West Coast Hip Hop to Garage, Chamber Pop to Afrobeat, and more, all being linked together by a coherent story. This album is a full reflection of me, no holds barred.”

Kamar Jay’s debut album ‘...up until now’ is set for independent release on May 29th, 2026. For more information, or to request an interview, please use the contact email kamar.jayartist@gmail.com.

Kamar Jay Music

@gmail.com

+1 321 317 2459

Source : Kamar Jay Music

See on IssueWire