

Motion Picture Presented The New Seasons of Turbozaurs during MIP Junior 2025

Yerevan, Armenia Nov 10, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Tale Wind Studio's animated adventure series Turbozaurs drew strong attention at MIP Junior 2025, where international distributor Motion Picture unveiled the show's new seasons to buyers and partners from around the world.

The presentation was part of a particularly active market in Cannes this year, which saw heightened demand for established family brands with proven international appeal. According to Motion Picture representatives, Turbozaurs attracted interest from both traditional broadcasters and global streaming platforms, with several partnership discussions now underway. Announcements regarding new deals are expected in the coming months.

Currently available in more than 20 language versions, including Spanish, Brazilian Portuguese, Italian, German, French, Polish, and Mandarin, the series continues to build on its global reach across broadcast, OTT, and licensing platforms.

Produced by Tale Wind Studio, Turbozaurs blends action, humor, and educational themes aimed at preschool and early school-age audiences. The series follows a team of friendly dinosaur-like rescue vehicles who help children solve problems, discover the power of teamwork and understand that team can work miracles.

With its growing catalog of high-quality episodes and consistent international performance, Turbozaurs animated series remains a key title in Tale Wind Studio's expanding portfolio and a notable presence in the global kids' content landscape.
