

Poet Leroy Ace Miller Offers 'A GIFT I GIVE TO YOU', an Education Journey of Life

Georgia-based attorney and poet Leroy Ace Miller is teaching the younger men to reclaim their dignity and class through his latest creative project, 'A GIFT I GIVE TO YOU'.

Macon, Nov 25, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Music and poetry can bring bigger changes to life, and it has the capability to inspire others. Utilizing art as a form of education, Leroy Ace Miller has come up with a brand new project that speaks about life and offers educational lessons for people of coming-of-age. The latest poetry cum song is titled 'A GIFT I GIVE TO YOU', and it is a gift that Leroy is offering for the youth, the young boys who need to get the right lessons to become a man with responsibilities. This creative project is a reminder to all men and people in society who are trying to make a living. This song is a perfect treat for listeners of all ages.

Ace Miller, aka Attorney Roy Miller, is a talented recording artist as well, and he is best known for his active advocacy for reducing violence and spreading love. Witnessing the modern world where young men with guns are capable of killing others and harming women, it is quite heartbreaking and disappointing for the artists as well as for the entire humankind. Being a veteran artist, poet, and attorney, Leroy is trying to guide the young men on the right path and offer them a better life than dying from self-destructive criminal ways. The latest project, 'A GIFT I GIVE TO YOU', is just a creative vision, but also describes an educational process where men can become more human with empathy, kindness, and emotional intelligence.

Hailing from the hometown of Macon, Georgia, Leroy has seen the downfall of young men who are good at displaying disrespect for women, and it is time for a change. He is also arranging a Suit Day on the 3rd Sunday, where men will show their class and dignity through their appearance in suits, and women will offer their admiration. This engaging initiative starts on December 21, 2025, and the poet asked all churches to be part of this journey. With his dedication to poetry, Leroy Ace Miller is ready to drop more projects in the coming days. Follow him on YouTube, Apple Music, Spotify, and Facebook for more.
