

PRIME AE Group Appoints Steve Muschiano as Chief Legal Officer

Industry veteran brings multidisciplinary expertise in law, engineering, and corporate compliance to guide sustainable growth.

Baltimore, Maryland Nov 5, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - PRIME AE Group, Inc., a leading architecture and engineering firm serving public and private sectors nationwide, continues to expand its leadership team with Steve Muschiano, PE, Esq., serving as Chief Legal Officer.

A registered professional engineer and attorney, Steve brings more than two decades of diverse experience across the architectural, infrastructure, and construction industries. His leadership encompasses areas including corporate governance, mergers and acquisitions, environmental regulation, litigation management, human resources, and operational compliance.

At PRIME AE, Steve oversees all legal and compliance matters, ensuring that the company's business strategy aligns with ethical practices and long-term sustainability. His rare combination of technical and legal expertise allows him to address challenges from multiple perspectives — strengthening both operational efficiency and organizational trust.

"Steve's leadership exemplifies the values of professionalism, innovation, and integrity that define PRIME AE," said [Name], CEO of PRIME AE Group. "His guidance has been instrumental in shaping our approach to sustainable growth and client service."

In addition to his executive role, Steve continues to advance his education through graduate programs at Villanova Law and the University of Connecticut, reflecting his belief that effective leadership depends on continual learning and adaptability.

With a foundation in engineering design and a career rooted in legal excellence, Steve Muschiano represents the next generation of leaders who bridge disciplines — connecting compliance with innovation and strategy with service.

About PRIME AE Group

PRIME AE Group, Inc. is a multi-disciplinary architecture and engineering firm delivering creative, practical, and sustainable design solutions to clients nationwide. The company's integrated approach to design, infrastructure, and project management enables smarter, more efficient communities and a lasting positive impact.

Media Contact

Steve Muschiano

@brite-post.com

Source : <https://www.primeeng.com/>

See on IssueWire

