With the world moving and adopting the technological advancements, Stonemart™ is promoting hand carved products to ensure the age old stone carving art is not surpassed by modern machines. When most of the stone artists were forced to work as labor in construction industry due to less resources to showcase their work, this brand stepped forward to give them the respect they well deserve.

When asked Mr. Swadesh Rohilla the founder of Stonemart™ what makes his venture different from rest, his reply was worth admiration. He stated we know with machines we can increase profit, double the production, lower the cost but all this is on stake of the art inherited from fathers and fore fathers. We cannot afford losing the art with its deep roots to ancient past. For this reason you will find this company working with even more skilled artisans in coming years with art to amaze you even more. At Stonemart™ you will find Kishan Ji working at age of 74 not because to support his family but to enjoy working without any stress, to follow a routine that gives him happiness, pride and to sit peacefully and gossip with other members. He works may be 4 hours but the joy he gets is seen in his smile which is a motivation for all of us.
