About Brandon Dawson

Brandon Dawson is a serial American entrepreneur, business scaling expert & coach, real estate investor, philanthropist, author, Building Billions podcast host, and CEO of Cardone Ventures; a business valued in excess of 500 million dollars with over a billion dollars' worth of companies under management. Cardone Ventures has created new companies such as 10X Health, 10X Buy Sell, Cardone Equity Group and has partnered with even more in up-and-coming booming industries such as HVAC, Cyber Security, Farms & Ranches, Dental, Insurance and so much more.

Voted the least likely to succeed in high school, Brandon became one of the youngest to ring the American Stock Exchange bell in New York, publicly listing his company at the age of 29. His 1st business, the first consolidator in the hearing care industry called Sonus Corporation sold for $38.2 million USD in 2002 and his last business, a hearing, allergy and medical company called Audigy Group exited in 2016 for $151 Million – 77x EBITA. Brandon then worked with the public company GN which acquired Audigy Group and helped them grow from $18 a share to $94 a share within thirty-six months, adding $3.5 billion in market value within 36 months. GN CEO “Buying Brandon Dawsons company, Audigy was one of the best things we did at GN”

Brandon's nominations and awards include being a 7 x Inc 500/5000 recipient, 3 x Inc Higher Power Award winner, 3 x Top Workplaces Pacific NW Award Winner, and 3 x EY Entrepreneur of the Year Awards Regional Finalist. He has donated over $1.5 million to charity. “Best day of my life was sending out $45 million to my customers and every one of my employees, because they all shared in the value. We created more multi-millionaires in the hearing care space than had ever existed before, and that personally, is something I'm very proud of. And they're still crushing it.” Brandon Dawson, regarding the sale of Audigy Group in 2016.
