Delivering Compassionate, Expert Care to Enhance Mobility and Quality of Life

Clarksville, Tennessee Nov 11, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Tori L. Breitenbach, DPM, is a highly skilled podiatric surgeon dedicated to improving patient mobility and overall quality of life. With extensive training and a passion for patient-centered care, she plays a key role in elevating the services at Gateway Foot and Ankle Center, where she serves patients from the Clarksville, Tennessee, office.

Dr. Breitenbach earned her Bachelor of Science Degree in Bioengineering and Biomedical Engineering from the University of Toledo in 2016, where she distinguished herself as a lead peer mentor and actively participated in engineering leadership programs. Her journey in medicine led her to the Dr. William M. Scholl College of Podiatric Medicine at Rosalind Franklin University of Medicine and Science, where she earned her Doctor of Podiatric Medicine Degree in 2020.

Following her education, Dr. Breitenbach completed her podiatric surgery residency at MedStar Washington Hospital Center, gaining invaluable experience in advanced foot and ankle care. She further honed her skills during a podiatric surgery fellowship with Certified Foot and Ankle Specialists in Boca Raton, Florida, which she completed in 2025. Her fellowship experience allowed her to specialize in both surgical and non-surgical treatments for complex foot and ankle conditions.

Dr. Breitenbach is a Diplomate of the American Board of Foot and Ankle Surgery and a proactive member of multiple professional organizations, including the American College of Foot and Ankle Surgeons, the Tennessee Podiatric Medical Association, and the American Podiatric Medical Association. Her impressive background also includes experience in product development with Zimmer Biomet, showcasing her commitment to merging engineering and medicine for innovative patient solutions.

Throughout her career, Dr. Breitenbach has emphasized the importance of compassionate care, utilizing her scientific knowledge and leadership skills to help patients restore function, alleviate pain, and enhance their overall health and well-being.

Outside of her professional commitments, Dr. Breitenbach enjoys baking, playing tennis, basketball, and soccer, reflecting her belief in maintaining a balanced lifestyle.
