

VibeCoded Launches First-Ever Marketplace for Vibe Coded Software Projects

Austin, Texas Nov 20, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - VibeCoded, an emerging technology startup founded in 2025, is excited to announce the launch of its groundbreaking marketplace for vibe coded software projects. The platform officially launches on 11/21/25, offering a seamless way for creators, developers, and entrepreneurs to buy and sell AI generated digital projects.

The founders of VibeCoded, with backgrounds in artificial intelligence, software development, and vibe coding, have created a revolutionary marketplace designed for a new era of AI assisted software creation. VibeCoded enables anyone, regardless of coding experience, to access production ready digital projects built using advanced AI coding tools.

With VibeCoded, developers can monetize their AI generated creations, while entrepreneurs and businesses can instantly acquire ready made websites, mobile apps, games, scripts, and more. The marketplace empowers users to explore, purchase, download, and customize projects across dozens of categories.

"Our mission is to democratize software creation by giving anyone access to high quality, AI generated digital projects," said Samuel Moreno, CEO of VibeCoded. "Vibe coding is transforming how software is built, and our platform makes it possible for creators to share their work and for buyers to bring their ideas to life faster than ever before."

The VibeCoded marketplace offers instant access to source code, documentation, and comprehensive implementation guides, enabling users to deploy and customize projects immediately. Categories include iOS apps, Android apps, websites, Chrome extensions, PC games, scripts, desktop software, and more.

VibeCoded also makes selling effortless with instant payouts, built in analytics, and a streamlined project listing process.

The platform is available starting 11/21/25 at <https://vibecoded.shop>. For more information, visit the website or browse featured projects in the marketplace.
