Temecula, California Dec 9, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Letters of Gratitude — A New Book by D.M. Lumière Celebrates Kindness, Reflection, and the Art of Saying Thank You

A heartfelt collection of universal letters and poetic reflections, paired with cinematic instrumentals that bring gratitude to life.

Letters of Gratitude: A Cinematic Journey of Gratitude in Word and Song invites readers into a quiet space of reflection and appreciation. Written by author and composer Darlene Marie (D.M. Lumière), the book is a luminous collection of eighteen letters dedicated to the people and moments that shape our lives — parents, teachers, mentors, friends, and even the kind strangers whose actions leave lasting warmth behind.

Each letter is written as a universal expression of thanks — a gentle reminder that gratitude is not bound by circumstance, but by awareness. Together, the letters form a mosaic of connection, celebrating love, kindness, and the quiet grace of being seen and remembered.

A Journey in Word and Sound

While Letters of Gratitude stands fully as a written work, it also includes an optional companion experience: original cinematic instrumentals composed by D.M. Lumière. Each chapter's melody mirrors its emotion — allowing readers to not only read about gratitude, but feel it through sound.

The result is a seamless blending of literature and music — a sensory reflection that invites stillness, emotion, and healing.
