

America's Best in Medicine Recognizes Sumaya M. Al Kalla, DMD, for Patient-Focused Care as Associate Dentist at MDC

Fostering Connections and Advancing Oral Health through Compassionate Dentistry in Falls Church, Virginia

Falls Church, Virginia Dec 9, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Sumaya M. Al Kalla, DMD, is a passionate and dedicated Associate Dentist working at Millennium Dental Care in Falls Church, Virginia. She brings her passion for dentistry and a comprehensive clinical philosophy to the practice, prioritizing the integration of esthetics with function and focusing on the structural foundation of the oral cavity to ensure optimal health and stability for her patients.

Dr. Al Kalla believes that each patient encounter is a unique opportunity to connect and learn. “What I enjoy most about practicing medicine is the opportunity to connect with my patients; each one brings a unique story, perspective, and experience,” she states. “Every interaction allows me to learn something new, not only about their health but also about the human spirit and resilience. This diversity keeps my work meaningful and continually reminds me of the privilege it is to make a difference in people’s lives through compassionate, personalized care.”

With an impressive academic background, Dr. Al Kalla holds an Associate of Arts in Business Foundation from the University of Phoenix, a Bachelor of Science in Biology from The University of North Texas, a Doctor of Medicine in Dentistry from Roseman University of Health Sciences, and a Master of Arts in Medical Science from Liberty University. Inspired by her father, one of the first orthodontists in Qatar, Dr. Al Kalla was motivated from an early age to pursue a career in dentistry and uphold a commitment to patient care and professional excellence.

Throughout her journey, Dr. Al Kalla has been fortunate to learn from esteemed mentors like Dr. Gheed Almudhafar, who has significantly impacted her professional development. “Working by her side has been a transformative experience — one that refined my skills, strengthened my values, and elevated the quality of care I provide to my patients,” Dr. Al Kalla reflects.

Her early hands-on experience as a Dental Assistant at Millennium Dental Care laid the groundwork for her clinical exposure, while her volunteer efforts at events such as Give Kids A Smile (GKAS), Give New Utahns A Smile (GNUS) at Roseman University, and the American Health Expo at Howard University Hospital, demonstrate her unwavering commitment to promoting dental awareness and preventive care.

In 2023, Dr. Al Kalla was selected for the Academic Dental Career Fellowship Program (ADCFP), a testament to her dedication to academic leadership and advancement in dental education. Additionally, she was honored with the Future Leader in General Dentistry Award on March 27, 2025, recognizing her contributions to the field.

Dr. Al Kalla is known for her compassion, precision, and cultural awareness, treating each patient as a unique individual and providing personalized care that combines empathy with clinical expertise. She credits her success to her strong work ethic, her parents’ unwavering support, and her desire to continually expand her skills and professional network.

Beyond her clinical expertise, Dr. Al Kalla is committed to fostering a welcoming environment where every patient visit is impactful and memorable. Her passion for education drives her desire to educate both her patients and future generations of dental professionals.

Outside of her professional responsibilities, Dr. Al Kalla finds balance and joy through her love of sports, particularly volleyball and basketball.

As Dr. Sumaya M. Al Kalla continues to grow in her field, she looks forward to contributing to the advancement of dentistry through lifelong learning, mentorship, and future scholarly publications. Her dedication to patient-centered care and community service positions her as a valuable asset to Millennium Dental Care and the broader dental community.
