

America's Best in Medicine Recognizes Suzanne Sandhu, NP, as a Leader in Patient-Centered Care and Community Health

Transforming Lives Through Compassionate Healthcare and Innovative Leadership

Kansas City, Missouri Dec 10, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Suzanne Sandhu, NP, a highly experienced Nurse Practitioner and healthcare leader, has made significant strides in the medical community, leveraging over a decade of clinical and managerial expertise across various specialties, including endocrinology, internal medicine, rheumatology, primary care, and long-term care. Her dedication to individualized patient care and her commitment to mentoring fellow healthcare professionals set her apart as a leader in the field.

“What I enjoy most about practicing medicine is the opportunity to provide individualized care to each patient,” says Suzanne. “Every person’s health journey is unique, and I find great fulfillment in taking the time to understand their specific needs, goals, and challenges. Building those connections and tailoring care plans accordingly allows me to make a meaningful difference in their overall well-being.” Her approach emphasizes the importance of understanding each patient’s learning style and motivation, ensuring they are engaged and informed about their health journey.

A proud graduate of the University of Missouri–Kansas City, Suzanne holds both a Bachelor of Science in Nursing and a Master of Science in Nursing. She has been a member of Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing since 2005 and is licensed to practice as a Nurse Practitioner in both Missouri and Kansas, highlighting her commitment to providing high-quality care across state lines.

In her leadership role at TapestryHealth, Suzanne has successfully managed and developed practices for 16 nurse practitioners and physician assistants across seven states. Her responsibilities encompass onboarding new providers, ensuring legal and regulatory compliance, and establishing robust, profitable practices within long-term care facilities. Suzanne’s leadership is characterized by her ability to merge clinical excellence with operational success, creating systems that benefit both patients and healthcare teams.

Beyond her professional accomplishments, Suzanne is deeply passionate about community health and volunteerism. She has collaborated with the American Heart Association to support stroke patients in their recovery, helping them rebuild cognitive, reading, and math skills. Her lifelong commitment to service, education, and leadership reflects her belief in the transformative power of nursing—through direct patient care and advocacy for both patients and healthcare providers.
