

Greater El Paso Association of REALTORS® Partners With The International MLS [IMLS]®

All Greater El Paso Association Members Become IMLS Members

Delray Beach, Florida Dec 9, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - The International MLS [IMLS]® announced today that the Greater El Paso Association of REALTORS® (GEPAR) in Texas has signed a partner agreement with The IMLS to provide IMLS memberships to its 3100 members as an MLS member benefit.

According to The IMLS CEO/Founder Dr. Daniel Nussbaum, "We are delighted to say that we have now partnered with the Greater El Paso Association of REALTORS® to provide The IMLS as a member benefit to all of their members and that we are now expanding our coverage into Texas. The agreement provides that all of their members' listings are now available on The IMLS as well as on thousands of other agent and broker sites across the country and around the world automatically. We're excited to be partnering with our first MLS/Association in Texas and confident in our continued industry acceptance and success."

With their members now also being IMLS members, they are all listed now in The IMLS Agent Directory and they can be listed for every city they service, have full access to their own secure area in The IMLS Agent platform, be able to get their own International New Homes Development search in an unbranded solution with developments in 25 countries, and be able to network internationally while providing their listings with international exposure. "I want to personally thank CEO Tony Delgado and MLS Director Reagan Kesner of the Greater El Paso Association of REALTORS®, for their help and working so well with us to make this happen," said Dr. Nussbaum.

Daytona Beach Association members are now also able to take advantage of all of IMLS Special Product Options and Opportunities to build their businesses locally and globally. This includes The IMLS international search page with listings in 100+ countries and in 100+ languages which provides an automated global property sharing of listings between agents all over the world. Their customers can view all IMLS listings around the world in more than 100 languages with their web visitors staying on that agent's own URL and with the agent getting the buyer leads to make referrals to other agents as they choose. The IMLS also makes it very easy for agents to network with each other anywhere in the world as well as share listings.

The IMLS global technology platform addresses the growing concerns about the direction of the real estate industry by making certain core ethical promises. The IMLS never advertises other agents on a personal member's listing page. If a consumer is interested in a property, only that listing agent will receive the lead, and The IMLS does not take any For Sale By Owner USA residential listings. The IMLS initiative is about putting the real estate market back into the hands of agents and brokers.

"With the previous additions of the Miami Association, Combined LA Westside MLS, Royal Palm Coast REALTOR® Association in Fort Myers, along with many of the associations of the Stellar MLS among others, this adds the agents and brokers from the El Paso, Texas area. This agreement continues to expand IMLS memberships and puts us on the path to expanding further throughout the USA. Our growth since 2020 has been exponential, and we expect further significant growth ahead with associations, MLSs, brokers, agents, and developers participating.

Our goal remains to bring the real estate world closer together by serving the best interests of all concerned. We are delighted that the Greater El Paso Association of REALTORS® can see the advantages for their members to become IMLS members and join in with The IMLS global initiative, and that they can also see that The IMLS is not just for their global agents, but that it is also for Luxury and Global agents and those that want to be,” said Dr. Nussbaum.”

“The Greater El Paso Association of Realtors is excited to bring this incredible opportunity to our members. Expanding beyond our immediate and national market provides our members clients with unlimited exposure. GEPAR's goal is to continue providing quality benefits and value to our members, and this partnership with IMLS helps us accomplish that.” – Tony Delgado, GEPAR AE/CEO
