Los Angeles, California Dec 5, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - HappyCow, the world's leading online guide for plant-based dining, today announced that Asante in Barcelona, Spain, has been named the #1 vegan restaurant in the world in its highly anticipated 2025 Top Global Vegan Restaurants list. The ranking is the first major initiative under the brand's new owner, renowned vegan consultant Claudia Torres.

While Spain claimed the top spot, the United States led the world with the highest number of restaurants featured on the list. This strong showing highlights the depth and diversity of the American plant-based scene, with top-rated establishments recognised from coast to coast.

The list of 81 restaurants reveals a broader global trend of "decentralisation of vegan excellence," with world-class dining increasingly found outside of traditional capital cities. Restaurants in Cardiff (Wales), Bristol (UK), and Kyoto (Japan) also feature prominently. The report highlights the emergence of new vegan hotspots as well, with Athens, Greece, showing the highest density of high-ranking restaurants.

"Authentic reviews are crucial as they provide genuine insights. Our thoughtful approach to ranking not only ensures that emerging favourite spots receive the recognition they deserve but also that well-loved establishments continue to shine for their consistent quality," said Claudia Torres, CEO of HappyCow. "Our community plays an essential role in this process. Every review they share not only helps fantastic restaurants stand out, but also contributes to the growth of the vegan community worldwide."

The 2025 list was determined by a reliability score that considers the overall rating, the quantity and quality of reviews, and how recent those reviews are, ensuring the results reflect the most current dining experiences.
