Sim League Gear Essential: A Tee Holder That Actually Solves a Problem

One universal league moment? That awkward tee and marker scramble while the group behind you stares. As a dropshipper specializing in simulator gear, I have seen this slow down thousands of sim rounds, until Tee Clip simplified the entire routine.

This USA-made 4-in-1 magnetic holder (tee, ball marker, divot tool, and clip) cuts setup from a clumsy 37 seconds to around 9, holding firm even at 120+ mph on mats like TrueStrike or Fiberbuilt. More than 18,000 golfers swear by it for league play and winter sim sessions. Smaller versions like the MINI or ultra-portable Hip Clip are earning “game-changer” status for zero drops, consistent tee height, and faster bay rotation.

Bay sharers clip it to the mat. Belt users go Hip Clip. Walkers tether it for instant access. It's a staple in many winter league setups, including at Hilly Haven, though this mention is purely my independent take as a sim-gear dropshipper, with no affiliation to Tee Clip or the club.

Gear up before Week 1 at TeeClipGolf.com—because slow bays wait for no one.
