

Rahul Haroliya — A Young Bike Rider from Ahmedabad Connecting the World to Gujarat's Unexplored Dest

Bike rider and digital creator Rahul Haroliya has started promoting local tourism by documenting Gujarat's hidden spots on Substack and his personal website.

Ahmedabad, Gujarat Dec 3, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Rahul Haroliya, a young bike rider and digital creator, is gaining attention for documenting unexplored and lesser-known tourist destinations across Gujarat and nearby regions through his bike journeys. Rahul has recently published articles such as “My Bike Riding Journey” and “Top 10 Hidden Places in Gujarat I Explored as a Bike Rider” on his Blogger platform and Substack, which have received positive response both locally and nationally.

Rahul believes that bike riding is not just a hobby but a lifestyle — one that allows riders to discover new stories, cultures, and regional traditions. From Ahmedabad to royal heritage sites, waterfalls, and serene natural locations, he has explored multiple routes and shared real on-road experiences, along with stories of local people and offbeat locations.

“My aim is to highlight the places that people often overlook — and to show how beautiful and safe road trips in India can be,” says Rahul. He also emphasizes that his mission is to inspire the youth and promote local tourism through authentic travel content.

Photos, videos, and detailed travel stories from his journeys are available on Rahul’s website (rahulharoliya1.site) and social media profiles (Instagram: @rahulharoliya1). Rahul is also planning new routes and collaborations to help more riders and travelers discover these hidden gems.
