

Church of Scientology Nashville to Host Interfaith Panel for World Interfaith Harmony Week

Nashville, Tennessee Jan 13, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - In observance of World Interfaith Harmony Week, the Church of Scientology Nashville will host an interfaith panel discussion titled “Finding Common Ground” on Sunday, February 1, 2026, from 3:30 to 5:30 PM. The event will bring together leaders from diverse faith traditions for a thoughtful conversation focused on unity, mutual respect, and understanding across religious lines.

The panel will explore shared values that connect faith communities and how dialogue can strengthen harmony in an increasingly diverse society. Attendees will have the opportunity to hear perspectives rooted in different spiritual traditions, all centered on cooperation and peaceful coexistence.

The discussion will be moderated by Rev. Brian Fesler, Pastor of the Church of Scientology, who has long been involved in interfaith initiatives in Middle Tennessee. The panel will feature faith leaders representing Christian, Muslim, and Hindu traditions, reflecting the broad religious landscape of Nashville.

World Interfaith Harmony Week, observed annually in early February, was established by the United Nations to encourage interfaith dialogue and cooperation as a pathway to peace. The Church of Scientology Nashville regularly participates in and hosts interfaith events as part of its commitment to fostering understanding among religions.

The event will take place at the Church of Scientology, located at 1130 8th Avenue South, Nashville, TN 37203. The panel discussion is open to the public, and members of the community are invited to attend and take part in this meaningful exchange.
