

From Protector of the Skies to Preserver of Culture: IAF Veteran Anand Kumar Ashodhiya's Literary Odyssey

Sonipat, Haryana Jan 31, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Anand Kumar Ashodhiya, a retired Warrant Officer of the Indian Air Force (IAF) with over 32 years of exemplary service, is now spearheading a literary renaissance through his imprint, Avikavani Publishers. Celebrated as "Kavi Anand Shahpur," he channels military precision into safeguarding India's folk traditions, regional languages, and classical epics.

Honored Literary Patriot

Recipient of the Haryanvi Sahitya Ratna (2025) and Kargil Vijay Samman, Ashodhiya blends defense legacy with cultural stewardship. From aerial patrols to preserving Haryanvi Ragni and Mahabharata-inspired works, his flagship titles—SĀKET: An English Trans-creation (inspired by Maithili Sharan Gupta) and Antaryātrā: The Inner Journey—bridge vernacular roots with global reach.

"A soldier's discipline forges a poet's duty to preserve our heritage," states Ashodhiya. Through Avikavani Publishers, he documents oral folk epics and provides scholarly Pingal Shastra (prosody) reviews to elevate Haryanvi literature.

Ashodhiya's portfolio spans Haryanvi folk epics, modern poetry, and English adaptations. Highlights from his 13 major works:
