

Ingram Insurance Group Launches New Risk Management Resources to Help Ohio Ministries

Dayton, Ohio Jan 23, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - The evolving insurance market for churches is making it difficult for pastors and church leaders to navigate their financial needs. Considering their needs, Ingram Insurance Group has launched new risk management resources, an exhaustive guide for Church Insurance in Ohio. The faith communities in Ohio are currently facing an increasingly complex landscape of property risks and liability challenges. With the help of this newly launched initiative, Ingram is providing specialized educational resources for church leadership teams across the Buckeye State.

Ohio is a place with volatile weather patterns that range from lake-effect snow to severe spring tornadoes. The natural calamities are putting historic and modern sanctuaries in unprecedented challenges, which require adequate protection. Ingram Insurance Group launched a comprehensive guide on Church Insurance in order to help ministries move beyond generic commercial policies toward specialized protection strategies. According to the spokesperson of the company, "Our goal is to empower stewards with the knowledge they need to protect their mission."

This latest initiative highlights the critical areas that are often unaddressed, such as Historic Property Stewardship, Clergy Professional Liability, and Volunteer Protection. Focusing on these areas will help to ensure that Ohio's architectural treasures are insured for true replacement value. It will also help to protect the sanctity of the counseling room with specialized pastoral coverage while securing individuals who serve as the backbone of Ohio's non-profit sector. Ingram is making a localized approach to make sure everyone can have access to the data, whether a congregation is in the heart of Cleveland or a rural township in Appalachia. The new Risk Management Resources are now available to church boards, deacons, and administrative pastors looking to conduct their annual safety audits or renew their coverage for the upcoming year. Visit the official website at <http://insuredbyingram.com/> to find out more.
