

MobileSentry Expands to Europe: Faster Delivery, Local Payments, and Multilingual Support

Amsterdam, Netherlands Jan 19, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - MobileSentry Europe has officially launched operations with a new distribution center in Eindhoven, Netherlands, bringing Phone Parts Europe, repair tools, and accessories closer than ever to professionals across the continent.

Why Europe Matters

European repair professionals have long faced challenges with fragmented supply chains, inconsistent part quality, and slow delivery times. By establishing a physical presence in the Netherlands, MobileSentry is closing those gaps.

Key Benefits for European Repair Shops

- Next-day delivery across Europe — with late order cut-offs, ensuring repairs are never delayed.
- Multiple courier options — including DHL, FedEx, UPS, and PostNL for reliable shipping.
- Seamless local payments — support for over 20 European methods like iDeal, SEPA, Bancontact, and Trustly.
- Multilingual support — service available in English, French, German, Spanish, Italian, Dutch, and more.

Leadership Vision

Saad Javed, CEO of MobileSentry, explained that the new European hub aims to eliminate fragmented supply chains and bring dependability to the repair industry. The company's proven model in North America — wide SKU availability, robust warranties, and reliable delivery — is now being localized for European customers.

Long-Term Commitment

This move is more than just an expansion; it's a statement of intent. By investing in infrastructure and customer support in Europe, MobileSentry is signaling a long-term commitment to the repair community on the continent.

Conclusion

MobileSentry's arrival in Europe is set to reshape repair logistics, giving professionals quicker access to parts, smoother transactions, and stronger customer support. For repair businesses, this could mean more efficient operations — and ultimately, happier end customers.
