

Publisher and Editor Takes A Spin In Music

Discovering Rae Ashe's New Rhythm A Journey into Music

New York City, New York Jan 21, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Rae Ashe, renowned as the Editor in Chief of HEIGHT Magazine™, has recently taken an exciting sidestep into the world of music, launching her first-ever album with compelling originality that promises to captivate audiences. Her venture holds tremendous appeal for those who dream of artistic expression beyond the written word. The album, titled *Y.I.H. (Young In Hollywood), released this past Fall, is more than just a music compilation; it's based on a series created and written by Ashe herself. This project reflects her multifaceted creativity and represents her desire to share her narrative through a new medium.

Ashe's affinity for music blossomed early in life. At just 7 years old, she recognized her vocal talents, and by the age of 12, she had achieved her first notable milestone by selling a song to a co-worker of her mother's. This significant early success ignited her passion and provided a strong foundation for her future endeavors. Despite receiving two recording contracts during her youth, Ashe opted out, seeking to preserve her artistic integrity and autonomy as a songwriter. Her commitment to creating music on her terms has now come to fruition, with her unique sound waiting to be discovered.

Characterized as Yacht Soul, her music fuses smooth R&B rhythms with relatable themes. Rae's songs are completely her own — penned, arranged, and produced, infusing each track with her authentic voice and vision.

Among her notable works is "Don't Like Love Songs," featured on the Y.I.H. album. However, it is her latest single, "Recovery," that stands out with a powerful message about healing and inner strength. Streaming on multiple platforms, the track has been embraced by audiences and is currently in rotation on various playlists. The music video for "Recovery" adds a visual dimension, offering insights into the song's themes. Available on YouTube, it enhances the listening experience with captivating imagery that resonates with the message of restoration and understanding. Ashe's musical journey is also a beacon of inspiration to women everywhere. She embodies the notion that dreams are attainable, no matter how far they may seem. Through her music, Ashe encourages those who have set aside their aspirations to revisit and reclaim them, reinforcing that it is never too late to pursue one's passions.

As Rae continues to develop her sound and share her artistry with the world, audiences are left thrilled by the promise of what lies ahead. Her evolution from an esteemed editor to a musical artist is a testament to her diverse talents and determination to make her mark in any field she chooses.

Media Contact

Golden Ink Media & Entertainment Distribution LLC

*****@gmail.com

9735832782

Source : Golden Ink Media & Entertainment Distribution LLC

See on IssueWire