McGuire is a seasoned Licensed Professional Counselor dedicated to guiding individuals and couples on their journeys of self-discovery and personal growth. With over ten years of professional experience and licensure across multiple states, he brings a wealth of knowledge and a unique, empathetic approach to mental health care.

Located in Sandy Springs, Georgia, Rhondell's practice – McGuire Counseling LLC – focuses on building strong therapeutic relationships that foster healing. He believes that the essence of effective therapy lies in genuine connection and active listening. "I position myself as a facilitator of the healing journey," Rhondell explains, emphasizing empathy and understanding as central to his work rather than a sole reliance on technique or theory.

Rhondell offers both in-person and online counseling sessions, ensuring that his services are accessible to a diverse clientele. His expertise encompasses a wide range of challenges, including anxiety, depression, relationship issues, divorce, addiction, parenting concerns, and mood disorders. Utilizing a client-centered, solution-focused approach, he tailors his methods to meet the unique needs of each individual.

Employing a blend of therapeutic techniques such as Client-Centered Therapy, Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT), and Solution-Focused Brief Therapy (SFBT), Rhondell adapts his style to promote personal growth and healing. His commitment to the human relationship as the core of change allows clients to feel empowered to understand themselves more fully and take meaningful steps toward achieving their goals.

What Rhondell finds most fulfilling about practicing therapy is the profound privilege of witnessing transformation—the quiet yet powerful moments when clients begin to trust themselves, set healthy boundaries, and reclaim their sense of agency. He is continually inspired by the courage it takes to show up with honesty and vulnerability, and to engage in the deeply meaningful work of healing. For Rhondell, therapy extends far beyond problem-solving; it is about creating a safe, affirming space where individuals feel truly seen, heard, and valued. "I love helping clients connect the dots between their past and present, and supporting them as they build lives that reflect their values, strengths, and hopes," he shares. "It's an honor to walk alongside people as they rediscover their resilience and rewrite their stories."
