

World First – Dual Scopism SIAM Accreditation for Atos

Atos is the first organization in the world to hold dual Scopism SIAM Assured Status

London, United Kingdom Jan 22, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Scopism, the worldwide SIAM community leader and professional body, has today announced that Atos has been awarded Scopism SIAM Assured status in two categories; both as a SIAM Service Provider and as a SIAM Consultancy and Advisory Organization.

Scopism's independent SIAM Assured program measures organizations against internationally recognized benchmarks of best practice and looks at capability, maturity, governance, people, processes and customer outcomes. By choosing to undergo the rigorous assessment required to achieve Scopism SIAM Assured status, organizations demonstrate their commitment to the delivery of excellence in service integration and continual improvement across multi-provider service environments.

The attainment of dual Scopism SIAM Assured status by Atos not only highlights its ability to deliver operational SIAM as a Service Provider but also its Consultancy Service offerings in assisting customers to advise, design, implement and operate mature SIAM models that deliver real business outcomes.

Harjit Gill, SIAM Director from Atos, said: "Atos is delighted to receive Scopism SIAM Assured status as both a SIAM Service Provider and as a SIAM Consultancy and Advisory Organization. This is a great achievement for the team and demonstrates the breadth and depth of our SIAM expertise across Atos. For Atos, SIAM goes beyond vendor management. It focuses on delivering end-to-end services aligned to business outcomes. Our approach puts people first, creating a high-performance environment where teams collaborate effectively, drive transformation, and deliver consistently, building lasting customer trust and measurable value."

Claire Agutter, Director at Scopism said: "I am thrilled to announce that Atos has been awarded dual Scopism SIAM Assured status as both a SIAM Service Provider and a SIAM Consultancy and Advisory Organization. Many congratulations to the whole team at Atos and thank you for all your hard work preparing for the assessment."

"Atos are the first organization globally to be awarded two formal accreditations from the Scopism Assured program. We are extremely proud to have such a leader in our community demonstrating their SIAM capabilities and we look forward to continuing to work with them as SIAM best practice evolves."

The Atos assessment report confirms the assessor's view that, following the rigorous assessment process, "We were impressed by the comprehensive nature of the evidence provided. Every question was answered with both standard services offering information as well as customer reference citations, which described how the service was used in the real world."

Accredited suppliers bring an added layer of assurance to businesses, reducing the risk of operational disruptions and ensuring consistency in quality and performance. Partnering with suppliers that have undergone accreditation offers organizations a clear advantage: these suppliers adhere to industry-wide standards, ensuring products and services meet or exceed expectations. This minimizes the chances of failure, delays, or quality issues. Accreditation also enables businesses to trace performance across their supply chain, ensuring consistency from raw materials through to finished products or services. This not only enhances transparency but also ensures that every link in the chain is accountable, reducing the likelihood of unexpected failures.

Claire Agutter, Director at Scopism said: "One of accreditation's most significant advantages is its simplification of the due diligence process. Vetting new suppliers can be time-consuming and resource-intensive, but accreditation acts as a pre-screening process, assuring organizations that the supplier has met recognized industry standards."
