

ZAAZ Accelerates Fiber and Broadband Growth with DynamoEdge AI

Carmel, Indiana Jan 9, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - ZAAZ, part of the regional Waiken ILW group, continues to expand its fiber and broadband presence across South America with the support of DynamoEdge's AUTONET™ AI platform, now deployed across multiple networks. The solution is designed to operate at scale in fast-evolving telecommunications networks, enabling the company to grow swiftly while maintaining a high level of service quality for its customers.

AUTONET creates a digital twin of operations and identifies Wi-Fi and performance issues before they impact users, automatically triggering corrective actions when needed. This ensures better service quality for customers and allows field operations teams to respond proactively, improving service stability. The platform is hardware-independent and can be integrated into existing infrastructure.

As broadband demand continues to rise in Latin America, AUTONET supports ZAAZ's expansion with a software-driven model that accelerates deployment across diverse geographies and network architectures, helping reduce time-to-service while maintaining consistent performance levels.

"AUTONET was created for fast-growing international networks like those in Latin America," said Barbara Bessolo, CEO of DynamoEdge. "Its predictive capabilities give ZAAZ greater visibility into what's changing in the network—allowing teams to act sooner and maintain a strong customer experience as expansion continues.”

“With AUTONET, we are strengthening reliability and efficiency in our operations. Our customers benefit from a more stable, higher-performing service, and our teams gain technology that supports smarter expansion,” explained Cristiano Santana, CEO of ZAAZ.

AUTONET AI takes ZAAZ's operations to a new standard, consolidating its leadership in AI-driven networks thanks to DynamoEdge's ability to deliver real-time intelligence at an international scale. This strategy stems from a shared vision: grow with agility, operate with excellence, and consistently deliver a superior experience to millions of users across the region.

Media Contact

DynamoEdge

@dynamoedge.com

Source : dynamoedge

See on IssueWire