Atlanta, Georgia Feb 4, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - As artificial intelligence reshapes how people discover businesses, services, and organizations, Hey Papi Promotions, an award-winning Christian digital marketing and advertising agency, today announced the launch of its AI Marketing Services designed to help brands get found on AI platforms and modern search environments.

Consumers are increasingly using AI tools such as ChatGPT, Google Gemini, Microsoft Copilot, Perplexity, Meta AI, Claude, Grok, and DeepSeek to search for businesses, ministries, events, products, and service providers. As AI-driven discovery becomes mainstream, organizations that are not optimized for AI search risk losing online visibility, brand credibility, and potential customers.

Hey Papi Promotions developed its AI marketing solutions to address this shift. The services focus on AI search optimization, digital visibility, brand authority, and content positioning to ensure organizations are discoverable, recommended, and trusted within AI-generated results and traditional search engines.

"Our goal is simple: help businesses and organizations get found where people are actually searching," said Shawn Hay, Director of Marketing & Public Relations at Hey Papi Promotions. "AI is now a major gateway to information and recommendations. If your brand isn't visible in AI search, you're missing opportunities to reach new audiences."

The AI Marketing Services are available to businesses, churches, nonprofits, creators, event organizers, and product-based brands seeking to improve their digital presence and reach customers through AI-driven platforms. By combining ethical, values-based marketing with advanced AI and digital strategies, Hey Papi Promotions delivers scalable solutions that support sustainable growth.

With a strong track record in Christian marketing and digital innovation, Hey Papi Promotions continues to expand its offerings to meet the evolving demands of modern search and AI technology.
