

AusBusinessRegister.com.au Launches Streamlined Service for Foreign Companies Entering the Australian Market

Specialist firm simplifies ABN registration, ASIC foreign company registration, and resident director services for international businesses expanding into Australia

Sydney, New South Wales Feb 14, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - AusBusinessRegister.com.au (www.ausbusinessregister.com.au) has announced the expansion of its specialist registration and compliance services designed to help foreign companies establish and operate business operations in Australia.

As international investment into Australia continues to grow, overseas companies face a complex web of regulatory requirements - from obtaining an Australian Business Number (ABN) as a non-resident entity, to registering as a foreign company with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC), appointing a local agent, and meeting ongoing compliance obligations under the Corporations Act 2001.

AusBusinessRegister.com.au provides end-to-end support across the full spectrum of Australian business registration requirements for foreign entities. Core services include ABN registration for non-resident businesses, ASIC foreign company registration and ARBN applications, resident director appointments, local agent services, GST registration, registered office address provision, and ongoing compliance management.

“Foreign companies looking to do business in Australia often underestimate the regulatory complexity involved,” said Richard Carey, director at AusBusinessRegister.com.au. “Our role is to remove that burden entirely - handling everything from initial registration through to ongoing ASIC and ATO compliance - so international businesses can focus on what they came here to do: grow their Australian presence.”

The firm works with businesses from the United States, the United Kingdom, Europe, and the Asia-Pacific region, offering tailored guidance based on each company’s structure, home jurisdiction, and intended Australian operations. Whether a company is registering a branch office, establishing an Australian subsidiary, or simply obtaining an ABN to fulfil contractor obligations, Aus Business Register provides a clear pathway through the process.

With the Australian government increasingly scrutinising foreign investment through national security and regulatory lenses, having experienced local support for company registration and compliance has become more important than ever for overseas businesses entering the market.

AusBusinessRegister.com.au also assists with Director Identification Number (Director ID) applications, Tax File Number registration, public officer appointments, and business name reservations — consolidating what would otherwise require engagement with multiple government agencies into a single, managed service.
