

Bethany Angél Collins, Recognized by BestAgents.us as a 2026 Top Agent

Greenville, SC Buying or selling a home is rarely just a transaction. For many families, it is a financial turning point, and the decisions made during that process can echo for years.

Greenville, South Carolina Feb 25, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Bethany Angél Collins, REALTOR® with Blackstream Christie's International Real Estate, has been named a 2026 Top Agent by BestAgents.us. The recognition reflects her steady growth in the Greenville and Spartanburg markets and her consistent advocacy for buyers who often need clear guidance more than quick answers.

Collins is known for delivering luxury service at every price point. Whether working with a first-time buyer navigating contracts for the first time or a homeowner preparing to list a long-held property, she brings the same level of preparation and attention to detail. Every client receives direct communication and thoughtful strategy from start to finish. You get her, not a team.

Originally from Costa Rica, Collins has lived in three countries and five U.S. states. That experience shaped how she views housing, design, and long-term investment. She is fluent in Spanish and conversational in German, which allows her to support clients relocating from different regions and backgrounds with confidence and clarity.

Before entering residential real estate, Collins gained hands-on experience in home design and construction project management. She studies more than she finishes, and staging. She looks closely at structural condition, maintenance patterns, and the practical costs that follow a purchase. Her clients understand not only what they are buying, but what ownership will require.

In her first year, Collins produced results comparable to many long-established agents in the area. She credits that growth to systems built around education and transparency rather than pressure.

Since making South Carolina home, she has embraced the Upstate community through local markets, cultural events, and neighborhood gatherings. Those connections inform how she serves the people who trust her with one of their largest financial decisions.

Collins often tells clients that wealth building begins with understanding the value others overlook. Her role is simple and clear: to guide, to explain, and to protect her clients' long-term interests.

Build the relationship before you need it.
