

Devon Wallace Builds a 6-Figure Entertainment and AI Empire

Nightlife. Software. AI. One man. Six figures. This is what Atlanta built.

Atlanta, Georgia Feb 20, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Devon "Mr. Mayhem" Wallace, founder and CEO of Mayhem World Entertainment LLC, has surpassed the six-figure revenue milestone across his multi-platform business empire — spanning live events, visual production, e-commerce, software development, and AI automation.

Based in Atlanta, Wallace has built one of the most diverse entrepreneurial portfolios in the city, with business verticals ranging from nightlife events and branded merchandise to custom software and a full-service creative production house.

MULTIPLE APPS IN THE APPLE APP STORE

Wallace has launched multiple applications now live in the Apple App Store under the Mayhem World brand umbrella. His app portfolio includes:

- Mayhem I/O — Atlanta's premier event and nightlife community platform
- Nexus AI — An AI-powered business building and growth app
- Goddess Models — An AI portfolio builder for models and creatives
- ShotByMayhem — An AI-powered style board and visual planning platform
- KVLN — The luxury baby and toddler streetwear app for House of KarleVon

CREATIVE DIRECTION AT SCALE

Wallace operates as a full-spectrum creative director — shaping brand identity, visual storytelling, and campaign strategy for artists, businesses, and events across Atlanta. His creative work spans content production, art direction, and brand development, distributed across major social media platforms.

A PROVEN EVENTS BUSINESS

Wallace built his reputation as an events promoter and producer, with shows drawing hundreds to Atlanta's top venues. His events business remains a core pillar of the Mayhem World empire and continues to generate consistent revenue year over year.

NEUVON: AI AGENCY FOR MODERN BUSINESSES

Wallace recently launched Neuvon, an AI agency helping small and mid-sized businesses leverage technology to streamline operations. As a software developer and tech entrepreneur, Wallace brings hands-on expertise in building custom automations, AI-powered workflows, and digital tools that help businesses grow faster and operate smarter.

A FOUNDATION BUILT ON TECH

Wallace's entrepreneurial journey is grounded in real technical education. A graduate of Year Up — a nationally recognized workforce development program — he received intensive training in information technology and professional skills, providing the foundation that now powers his software and tech ventures.

LOOKING AHEAD

With multiple apps live, a thriving events business, a growing creative brand, and an AI agency on the rise, Devon "Mr. Mayhem" Wallace is building Mayhem World into a nationally recognized entertainment and technology brand rooted in Atlanta culture.
