Dallas, Texas Feb 12, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - This marks the first time for Ideal Garage Doors. The annual "Best of Houzz" award acknowledges home service pros in the Houzz community who stand out for their work. Houzz is a leading platform connecting homeowners and home service professionals for repair and renovations needs.

Ideal Garage Doors is a small, family owned business that serves the greater Dallas and Collin County area. They provide complete residential garage door service, including garage spring repairs, garage door opener repairs and installation, garage door repair and installation, and regular maintenance. They also perform commercial garage door service to small business owners.

One of the unique aspects of their business is a focus on repair. Many garage door companies in the industry prefer to replace old equipment instead of repair it. While there may be good reasons to install new equipment at times, it is also more profitable for businesses to install new equipment.

The goal at Ideal Garage Doors is to deliver quality work with honest and transparent pricing. The garage door industry is noteworthy for upselling homeowners with unnecessary work, but Ideal Garage Doors prefers to give customers different options without hard selling.

Patrick Johnson, owner of Ideal Garage Doors, has years of experience repairing items that most other techs refuse to work on. This expertise in repair has gained the praise of homeowners throughout Dallas, as repairing an item is often more cost effective for the homeowner.

“This award means a lot to us. It’s a recognition of our high level of service and customer satisfaction,” states Johnson, the owner.

Ideal Garage Doors serves most of Dallas County and Collin County, including Garland, Rockwall, Richardson, Plano, Allen, McKinney, Murphy and Wylie.
