Pune, Maharashtra Feb 9, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Integs Cloud has been designated as a Zoho ERP Launch Partner, marking a significant milestone in the company's continued collaboration within Zoho's enterprise software ecosystem. The partnership positions Integs Cloud among the early service providers authorized to implement and support Zoho ERP for organizations seeking an integrated business management platform.

Zoho ERP brings together core operational functions such as finance, inventory, sales, procurement, operations, and analytics into a single connected system. Through this designation, Integs Cloud will support businesses in adopting Zoho ERP to improve workflow efficiency, data visibility, and overall operational performance.

The Preferred Launch Partner status is granted to select consulting and implementation firms with proven experience across Zoho applications and enterprise system deployments. Integs Cloud's extensive background in ERP consulting, cloud solutions, and business process optimization contributed to its selection for this program.

According to the company, this partnership reflects its long-term focus on helping organizations modernize their systems and move away from fragmented tools. By working closely with Zoho ERP during its initial rollout phase, Integs Cloud aims to provide structured implementations, customized workflows, and ongoing system support tailored to industry-specific requirements.

Integs Cloud works with businesses across e-commerce, retail, and manufacturing, Agritech, Logistics, IT Services, Engineering, Real Estate, Design Studio and more industries on digital transformation projects. Its core services include ERP implementation, system integration, process automation, and managed application support. The addition of Zoho ERP to its service portfolio enables the company to offer a more unified enterprise platform for clients looking to scale operations while maintaining control over financial and operational data.

The partnership also allows Integs Cloud to participate in early product enablement, solution design discussions, and technical training related to Zoho ERP. This ensures that client implementations align with best practices and fully utilize the capabilities of the platform from the outset.

Company officials noted that businesses are increasingly seeking connected systems that can respond quickly to operational and market changes. Zoho ERP brings essential business functions together on a single platform, helping organizations streamline processes, improve visibility, and make informed decisions using real-time data.

"Enterprises today need systems that are not only integrated but also adaptable to growth," said Huzefa Qamri, Director of Operations and Co-Founder at Integs Cloud. "Becoming a Zoho ERP Initial Launch Partner allows us to guide businesses through a structured ERP adoption journey that enhances efficiency and supports long-term scalability."

As a Preferred Launch Partner, Integs Cloud will focus on guiding businesses through system planning, deployment, data migration, user training, and post-implementation support. The company will also work on developing ERP frameworks for faster rollout across different industry verticals.

This milestone further strengthens Integs Cloud's position as a strategic ERP and cloud solutions provider in the Indian market. Over the years, the company has built strong expertise across various Zoho products, enabling clients to create integrated digital ecosystems that support long-term growth.

The collaboration with Zoho ERP is expected to benefit businesses seeking scalable enterprise platforms without the operational complexity associated with traditional ERP systems.

Integs Cloud continues to expand its service capabilities in response to changing enterprise technology requirements. The Zoho ERP Preferred Launch Partner designation represents an important step in delivering modern, connected business management solutions.
