Lyndon Moquist: A Pillar of Excellence in Real Estate and Community Engagement

Eden Prairie, Minnesota Feb 2, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Lyndon Moquist, a dedicated REALTOR® for 36 years and former managing broker (23 years) with Edina Realty, Inc., has enjoyed a successful return to full time Realtor sales since 2024, of new and existing homes with his many past clients, friends, and referrals over 36 years in real estate along with affiliation as new build sales team specialist with McDonald Construction in Twin Cities area, a “Reggie Award” winning premier Builder of designer quality homes where he continues to primarily serve the communities of Eden Prairie, Edina, Minnetonka, Chanhassen, and the surrounding southwest suburbs of Minneapolis. Lyndon has established himself as a likable, trusted leader in the industry, renowned for his commitment to excellence and unwavering dedication to his clients for sales of both existing homes and new build opportunities.

Throughout his career, Lyndon has successfully built and led two real estate offices, doubled agent count and tripled sales volume, and invested in the growth and success of his team as a highly regarded managing broker. His leadership style values building strong cultures first for establishing closely bonded, respected, trusted, fun relationships that depend on honesty, high integrity, and clear communication—values he applies to every client relationship, ensuring that each transaction is handled with the utmost care and professionalism.

Specializing in residential real estate and custom new construction home sales, Lyndon brings advanced knowledge and extensive experience to both buyers and sellers. His collaboration with Krissie Craig, another Edina Realty sales team partner with McDonald Construction allows him to offer clients a unique selection of custom design builds and signature plans with customizable features. With patience and empathy, he guides clients through each stage of the home buying or building process, fostering lasting relationships and ensuring an exceptional experience.

Lyndon’s commitment to his community is evident through his service on local boards, including roles as former Mpls Association of Realtors “public affairs” board chair and 12 years on the Eden Prairie “tax board of appeals”, and as a former co-chair of two separate housing board commissions to help create solutions for home affordability. His exceptional performance has earned him recognition for multiple year nominations for the “Emma Award” honored for “Honesty, Integrity, Commitment, Innovation, Community” at Edina Realty, the real estate company that has been the #1 market share leader in MN for 26 consecutive years. Passionate about empowering others, Lyndon always listens first to clients goals, concerns, then provides clients with accurate competitive market analysis for preparing a home sale for optimal success including design, prep consultation along with providing expertise, valuable instincts to help set the stage for clients to gain optimal leverage in negotiations, and enable them to make informed decisions every step of the way for rewarding outcomes and a hopeful “wow” experience. This philosophy for success has led to many repeat clients, referrals, and new and enduring friendships over the years.

A firm believer in the importance of joy and positivity, Lyndon strives to make each day enjoyable while taking on new challenges and delivering excellent work. He prioritizes building strong bonds with clients and maintains a lighthearted approach, ensuring that professional relationships are both meaningful and enjoyable. His intentional involvement in the community reflects his commitment to making a positive impact wherever he goes.

Outside of real estate, Lyndon is a lifelong musician and avid trumpet player, having performed professionally for more than 20 years soon after completing his Carlson School of Management degree at the University of MN where he also performed as 1st trumpet in the U of M Wind Ensemble with performances at Carnegie Hall, Orchestra Hall, China for a month, and Mexico for some amazing experiences. From his early days in several entertaining bands to some recording work to now sharing his talents with the Eden Prairie Community Band and playing at his church, music remains a central part of his life. He also enjoys staying active, especially on the golf course and loves to cheer on his two favorite current NHL hockey players, married to his nieces. A dedicated Eden Prairie Travel Soccer Club coach for 10 years, he spent countless hours guiding youth soccer teams and fostering the key values learned through sports in his community. Today, Lyndon treasures time spent with his two daughters and his wife of 36 years, balancing family, hobbies, and his professional life with energy, enthusiasm, and heart.
