

Sherri “Tasha” McCain-Currie, APRN, Recognized by America’s Best in Medicine as Owner and Founder of Lyons Heart Care

Delivering Compassionate, High-Quality Healthcare to the South Carolina Community

Columbia, South Carolina Feb 3, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Sherri “Tasha” McCain-Currie, APRN, a seasoned Advanced Practice Registered Nurse, is making significant strides in the healthcare landscape of Columbia, South Carolina, with her innovative approach to primary care. With over 15 years in the nursing field, including a decade as a nurse practitioner, Tasha combines her extensive clinical experience with heartfelt empathy to provide exceptional patient care.

Her diverse clinical background encompasses family medicine, home health, medical-surgical nursing, aesthetics, veteran compensation exams, and intensive care. This wide-ranging expertise allows Tasha to approach healthcare from a holistic perspective, prioritizing both preventive care and compassionate support. Patients often express appreciation for her ability to connect on a personal level, ensuring they feel understood and valued throughout their healthcare journey.

After earning her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from the University of South Carolina, Tasha furthered her education with a Master of Science in Nursing from Kaplan University. Qualified as a Certified Family Nurse Practitioner, she founded Lyons Heart Primary Care in Columbia, SC, where she leads a dedicated team in delivering comprehensive primary care services. Tasha focuses on chronic disease management, routine illness care, telehealth, wellness, aesthetics, and weight management support, tailoring her approach to meet the unique needs of each patient.

“I enjoy making a change in someone else’s life the most, even if it’s small,” says Tasha, reflecting her commitment to patient-centered care. She believes that building long-term relationships with her patients is crucial for effective healthcare. By taking the time to listen and understand their individual goals, Tasha fosters an environment of trust and collaboration.

In addition to her clinical work, Tasha is an advocate for healthcare equity and accessibility. She aims to break down barriers to quality care, ensuring that everyone in her community has access to the services they need. Through careful advocacy and a strong commitment to her patients, she continues to make a meaningful impact in the lives of those she serves.

Sherri “Tasha” McCain-Currie is not just a healthcare provider; she is a beacon of hope and support in the Columbia community, dedicated to improving health outcomes and enriching lives, one patient at a time.
