Mobile, Alabama Feb 15, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Trinity Home Inspections LLC announced today the launch of a new “Pay at Closing” package designed to help homebuyers reduce upfront expenses while still getting critical due diligence completed before closing. The package allows eligible buyers to roll inspection costs into the closing process, making it easier to budget during a time when moving and purchase costs can add up quickly.

The Pay at Closing package is available for our home inspections which includes a sewer scope and thermal imaging. It can also be paired with popular add-on services, including pool inspections, mold inspections, and indoor air quality inspections to help buyers gain a clearer understanding of a property’s condition. Trinity Home Inspections is known for thorough inspections and easy-to-read reports supported by clear photos and videos, helping clients make informed decisions with confidence.

“Homebuyers shouldn’t have to choose between protecting their investment and managing upfront costs,” said Matt Cameron, owner of Trinity Home Inspections LLC. “This option gives buyers a more flexible way to get the information they need, without adding more financial pressure during the buying process.”

Trinity Home Inspections serves clients across the Alabama Gulf Coast and surrounding areas, offering residential and commercial inspections and additional services depending on property needs. Availability for Pay at Closing may depend on transaction type, closing company processes, and eligibility requirements.
