XRP Crashes to $1.28, While KT DeFi Users Earn Up to $3,000 a Day

London, England Feb 6, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - XRP Crashes to $1.28, While KT DeFi Users Earn Up to $3,000 a Day

As crypto market volatility intensifies and XRP dips to $1.28, many holders are moving away from constant price watching and turning to KT DeFi, a cloud mining platform designed to deliver automated, passive returns.

KT DeFi offers a low barrier to entry, requiring no purchase of mining equipment and no technical expertise. Users simply select a mining contract, and the system automatically generates daily returns. Compared to constantly tracking price movements, allowing crypto assets to earn income automatically is a more convenient and reliable approach.

How to Start Cloud MiningStep 1: Register and Claim Your Rewards

Sign up to receive a $17 welcome bonus, plus earn an additional $0.60 every day simply by logging in.

Step 2: Choose a Mining Contract

After completing registration, you can select a mining contract that matches your investment goals and budget. KT DeFi offers a variety of flexible options, making it suitable for both beginners and experienced investors.

Before choosing a contract, you can clearly review:

- Contract duration
- Expected returns
- Associated costs

Please visit the official website for contract details and profit information.

Step 3: Start Earning Automatically

Once a contract is activated, the system automatically completes all mining operations—no manual action is required. KT DeFi's technology is designed to maximize mining efficiency and returns.

Earnings accumulate daily and can be viewed in real time through the user dashboard. Funds may be withdrawn at any time after they are credited.
