

1000 Women. 45 Days. Published Authors. This Women's Day, India Authors Academy is Making Dreams a Reality

After Creating World Record with 774 Authors, IAA Launches Her Book Movement 2026—Daughters of Nalanda Edition

Navi Mumbai, Maharashtra Mar 7, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - The Story: A teacher who's been dreaming of writing a curriculum guide for 15 years. A homemaker bursting with parenting wisdom. An entrepreneur ready to establish her thought leadership. A mother wanting to leave a legacy for her children.

This Women's Day, 1000 women like these will stop waiting and start writing.

India Authors Academy announces Her Book Movement 2026: Daughters of Nalanda Edition—a 45-day national writing movement that will transform 1000 women from dreamers into published authors by World Book Day (April 23).

"The time for 'someday' is over," says Sweta Samota, Co-Founder of India Authors Academy. "Women have postponed their dreams long enough. In 45 days, we're proving that authorship isn't reserved for the elite—it belongs to every woman with a story."

Here's What's Happening:

The movement kicks off with a Women's Day Welcome Rally on March 8, 2026—a national celebration where women commit to their 45-day writing journey. No experience needed. Just courage and commitment.

For the next 45 days, 1000 women will:

- Attend 1–2 LIVE weekly writing sessions with accountability partners
- Get guided through a proven nine-mission framework (same system that created 774 published authors through Likhega India Mission)
- Finish their first draft
- Learn how to publish independently on their own
- Publish their eBook on World Book Day (April 23) alongside 999 other women

The Ripple Effect:

When women publish books, everything changes. They establish authority. They become visible. They model courage for their families. Industries shift. Workplaces evolve.

"This isn't just about individual success stories," explains Manish Samota, Co-Founder of India Authors Academy. "When 1000 women become published authors simultaneously, it's a cultural shift. It says: women's voices matter. Women are creators. Women are leaders."

The Track Record:

Last November, India Authors Academy launched Likhega India Mission and created history: 774 authors published 774 eBooks in weeks, earning recognition from the Asia Book of Records and India Book of Records.

Over 450 of those authors—teachers, doctors, entrepreneurs, homemakers, professionals—gathered at a landmark Likhega India Conclave in January 2026 to celebrate not just their achievement, but their transformation.

Now, the academy is scaling this proven system specifically for women.

Why Women? Why Now?

Women remain severely underrepresented in India's publishing landscape. Yet countless women carry powerful untold stories—expertise, wisdom, experiences that deserve to be published and celebrated.

Her Book Movement removes the barriers: access and structure. Give women the right system, and what becomes possible is profound.

The Numbers:

- 1000 Founding Participants (limited seats)
- 45-day journey (March 10 - April 23)
- ₹499 investment (one-time, making it accessible)
- World Book Day celebration (April 23) where all 1000 women publish simultaneously

The Women We're Reaching:

- Teachers building curriculum guides
- Homemakers sharing parenting wisdom
- Entrepreneurs establishing authority
- Professionals building personal brands
- Mothers leaving legacies
- Women with untold stories waiting to be heard

What One Likhega India Author Said:

"I never thought I'd be published. Now I'm a world record-holding author. My daughter asked me, 'Mom, you wrote a book?' For the first time, I could say yes with pride." — [Author testimonial from Likhega India]

About the Initiative:

Her Book Movement 2026: Daughters of Nalanda Edition honors the legacy of Nalanda—historically a centre of knowledge and women scholars—by creating modern pathways for women to reclaim their rightful place as authors, thought leaders, and intellectual contributors to society.

About India Authors Academy:

Founded by Sweta Samota and Manish Samota, India Authors Academy is on a mission to democratize authorship and prove that publishing isn't a privilege—it's a right. The academy has already transformed hundreds of lives through Likhega India Mission (774 world record authors). Her Book Movement 2026 represents the next evolution: scaling empowerment specifically for women.
