

Amber Benson back in studio performing Raven Belasco's Blood Eternal, third in Blood & Ancient Scrolls Series

Boston, Massachusetts Apr 7, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Immoral Influence Publications (IIP) is releasing its fourth audiobook on MAY 26 2026, in response to fans demanding the next installment of the series. The BLOOD ETERNAL audiobook by Raven Belasco will be performed by Amber Benson, who narrated the previous novels in the series.

For the first time since starting producing audiobooks, author Belasco flew out to record the opening and closing content, bookending the experienced actor Benson's performance of the story.

Amber Benson is best known for her role as Tara Maclay on the iconic TV series Buffy the Vampire Slayer. She has directed, produced, and starred in myriad films and television shows since then. Benson has also written numerous books including Death's Daughter and has narrated books for authors including John Scalzi and Cory Doctorow, as well as writing and co-starring in Slayers: A Buffyverse Story.

"I can't tell you how excited I am to be back in the saddle for Blood Eternal, the next audio installment in Raven Belasco's deliciously sexy BLOOD & ANCIENT SCROLLS series," Benson said. "This series just keeps getting better and better. I think this is the best book Raven has written yet."

Speaking about the project, Belasco explained, "Amber has become a vital part of the BLOOD & ANCIENT SCROLLS series. As I write the forthcoming book in the series, I hear Noosh's dialogue in Amber's voice! But I don't mean to downplay the simply incredible work she puts in on all the characters, learning how to navigate all the accents and making each character unique and distinct. Getting to work with an actor who has this kind of talent is a dream come true."

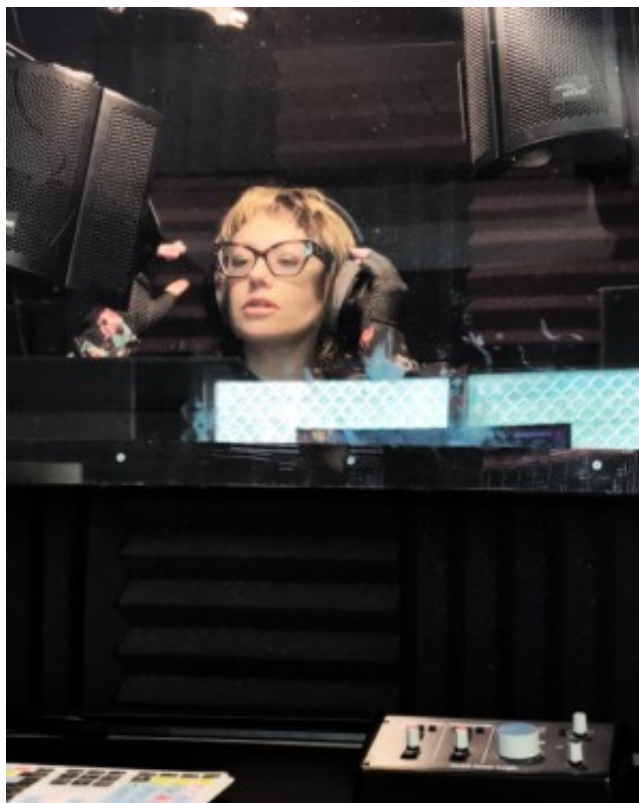

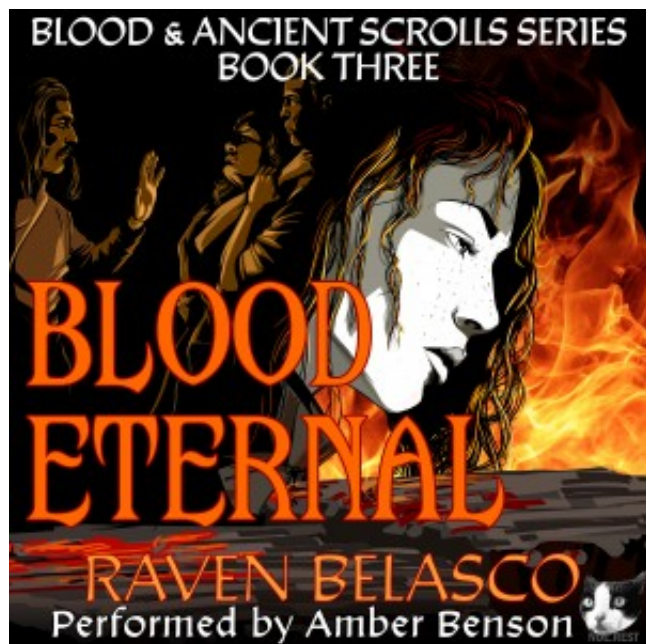

BLOOD ETERNAL is the third installment of the BLOOD & ANCIENT SCROLLS series. This fresh exploration of vampire myth brings a new vitality to the genre and also checks boxes for dark urban fantasy, horror, history, and action-adventure fans.
