Official

Romford, Essex Jun 8, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Cyber Tech Squad has officially become a partner of IONOS, one of Europe's largest cloud and hosting providers, to deliver enhanced managed server services to its clients.

This partnership gives Cyber Tech Squad direct access to IONOS's powerful range of cloud servers, virtual private servers (VPS), and dedicated hosting solutions, all supported by a global network of high-performance data centers. The result is a more robust and reliable server management offering that helps organizations reduce IT complexity while improving performance, scalability, and cost efficiency.

Business leaders frequently identify server management as one of the most challenging and resource-intensive parts of their IT operations. Through this new alliance, clients will receive expert handling of critical server tasks, including initial configuration, ongoing performance optimization, automated monitoring, backup management, update scheduling, and rapid response to potential issues — all running on IONOS's stable and secure infrastructure.

Additional benefits include access to IONOS partner program advantages such as preferential pricing, dedicated technical support, and tools for efficient client and billing management.

The partnership is especially valuable for SMEs and growing enterprises in the UK and across Europe that require flexible, high-performance server solutions to support web applications, databases, e-commerce platforms, and internal business systems — without the need to build and maintain an in-house server team.
