

Damaworks LLC Supplies German-Forged BALBACHDAMAST® Damascus Steel Billets to American Knifemakers from Ashland, Oregon

Oregon-based supplier offers carbon, stainless, and rare historical tank barrel Damascus steel with same-day shipping direct to makers across the United States

Ashland, Oregon Mar 31, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Damaworks LLC, a Damascus steel billet supplier based in Ashland, Oregon, announces the availability of premium Balbachdamast® Damascus steel billets for knifemakers, bladesmiths, jewelers, and hobbyist metalworkers across the United States. All inventory is stocked on-site and ships same day from Ashland.

Damaworks sources exclusively from Balbachdamast® GmbH in Laubuseschbach, Germany, a manufacturer specializing in Damascus steel since 1991. BALBACHDAMAST® holds registered trademarks at the German Patent and Trademark Office for multiple Damascus steel types and produces billets using a patented weld-bonding process that eliminates contaminants at every layer boundary, resulting in consistent layer counts, no voids, and predictable behavior under heat treatment.

The Damaworks product line includes three steel families. DSC® Carbon Damascus billets are produced from 1.2842 and 1.2767 tool steels in 160-layer configurations, achieving up to 62 HRC after heat treatment, and are available in nine patterns. DSC® Inox Stainless Damascus billets are produced from 1.4034 and 19C27 steels in 120-layer configurations, achieving up to 62 HRC and carrying food-contact approval for culinary and jewelry applications. Historical Damascus billets are forged from decommissioned military tank cannon barrels — including the Leopard 1 and M-48 Patton — combined with tool steel, producing 320-layer billets at 63-plus HRC. Historical stock is the final inventory with no possibility of reorder.

All billets ship soft-annealed, unetched, and precision flat-ground. Cut-to-size, pre-cut, and forge-ready formats are available. Carbon and stainless billets start at five dollars per inch. Orders placed before the daily cutoff ship the same business day via USPS Priority Mail domestically, with international shipping available through USPS, DHL, UPS, and FedEx.

Damaworks offers a 30-day return policy on all billets regardless of condition. Customers may choose a full refund, store credit, or a replacement billet shipped at Damaworks cost.
