

Finvasia Completes Exit from AAAFx

Athens, Attica Mar 24, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Finvasia announces the completion of its exit from AA AFx following the closing of a transaction with an external party for an undisclosed amount. Effective January 2026, the AA AFx brand and the aaafx.com domain operate under independent ownership and governance and are no longer the property of Triple A Experts Investment Services SA or the Finvasia Group. Finvasia has no continuing ownership, control, or operational involvement in AA AFx or aaafx.com.

This divestment supports Finvasia's strategic realignment to focus on its core growth verticals. The separation establishes independent ownership, governance, and operational structures and ends any association between Finvasia and the AA AFx business, including management linkage, branding, shared resources, or operational support.

The transaction was completed in accordance with applicable contractual obligations and regulatory requirements in the relevant jurisdictions. All required notifications, approvals, and closing formalities have been completed.

Finvasia is a multi-vertical group operating across investment banking, wealth management, blockchain infrastructure, payments, healthcare, and technology. The group remains focused on strengthening its regulated capabilities, deepening institutional relationships, and advancing its technology-led platforms in key markets.
