

I Tour Nepal Unveils Exclusive Luxury Road Trip to Upper Mustang

iTourNepal Pvt Ltd. is thrilled to announce the launch of its new luxury road trip experience to the enchanting Upper Mustang region.

Kathmandu, Bagmati Mar 30, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - This unique journey offers travelers a rare opportunity to explore the remote, culturally rich landscapes of the trans-Himalayan region of Nepal with comfort and style. With this luxury tour option, the last hidden Shangri-La of the Himalayas is no longer a rough, tedious journey through the harsh landscape, but it has been transformed into a pleasant Himalayan holiday that offers travellers an opportunity to immerse themselves in the pristine Tibetan culture and Himalayan scenery while staying comfortably in plush mountain resorts.

The tour is available from the two major cities: Kathmandu and Pokhara of Nepal, and lasts for 7 – 10 days. It winds through the lush valleys in the Himalayan foothills and then finally traverses the world's deepest gorge, wedged between Annapurna and Dhaulagiri massifs, to the arid trans-Himalayan region. Short hikes and explorations will take travellers to charming Himalayan villages and stunning viewpoints overlooking the majestic Himalayan peaks.

“Featured in the book – 1000 places to see before you die, the Upper Mustang is truly medieval Tibet outside of Tibet,” said Kopila Sen, Tour Manager of iTourNepal. “By introducing a luxury road trip option, we’re making it possible for leisurely travelers to experience this mystical region’s beauty and cultural depth without compromising on comfort. “

The Upper Mustang Luxury Tour package begins at $2,950 per person. Each package includes 10 nights' accommodation based on a five-star hotel and handpicked boutique luxury resorts, all transportation, permits, an expert guide, and meals.

Upper Mustang Tour for the Tiji Festival

We are also excited to announce the Upper Mustang Tour for the Tiji Festival. Each year, in around May, this last vestige of medieval Tibetan kingdoms also celebrates a 500-year-old mask dancing festival for three days. Monks from the local monastery reenact the mystic Vajrakila dance to ward off the evil spirit and bring peace, prosperity, and remove obstacles. A short seven-day road trip to Upper Mustang allows travellers to participate in the festival and immerse themselves in the local culture of Upper Mustang while it is exhibited at its best. “The Tiji Festival is a spectacular event that few get to witness firsthand, and we are excited to open bookings for this exclusive experience,” said Mr. Ram Mani Rijal, Marketing Manager of iTourNepal.

The itinerary has been carefully designed to include deluxe accommodations in a scenic location that allows travelers to relax while acclimatizing. Expert local guides and immersive experiences of Tibetan Buddhist and pre-Buddhist Bon traditions sheltered in the hidden valleys make the journey more interesting. Visitors will journey through the ancient salt-trading route leading to a hidden world dotted with ancient monasteries, sky caves, and traditional villages, culminating in the 15th-century earthen-walled city of Lomanthang, where the esoteric mask-dancing festival occurs.

The Tiji Festival Tour of Upper Mustang is organized in the month of May. Travelers interested in this once-in-a-lifetime adventure are encouraged to book early, as spaces for the Tiji Festival in May are limited. The exact departure date varies each year as the festival is based on the Tibetan calendar.
