Dallas, Texas Mar 27, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Receiving 400 Google Reviews is common for larger companies. However, getting to that level with minimal customer complaints is not at all normal, especially in the garage door industry. Further, Ideal Garage Doors is a small, family owned business.

Ideal Garage Doors is genuinely small, with only two technicians, the owner and one employee. They have been operating since 2011.

Ideal Garage Doors is a full service garage door company, providing everything from basic door maintenance to garage spring repairs to completely new garage door installations. They also work on commercial garage doors for small business owners.

They take particular pride in being able to repair most equipment. Many garage door companies in the industry prefer simply installing new equipment. While there may be good reasons for new equipment at times, it is also more profitable for businesses to replace rather than repair.

Patrick Johnson, owner of Ideal Garage Doors, has years of experience repairing items that most other techs refuse to work on. Homeowners throughout Dallas appreciate this approach, as repairing an item is often more cost effective for the homeowner.

Does that mean Ideal Garage Doors is the best garage door repair service in Dallas? “We like to think so,” states Johnson. “We work hard to keep customers happy. We aren’t perfect, no one is, but if there’s a problem or complaint, we do our best to make it right.”

The goal at Ideal Garage Doors is to deliver quality work at honest and transparent pricing. A common complaint in the garage door industry is pushing lots of unnecessary work. Ideal Garage Doors prefers to give customers different options without hard selling.

Ideal Garage Doors serves most of Dallas County and Collin County, including Dallas, Richardson, Garland, Rockwall, Plano, Allen, McKinney, Murphy and Wylie.
