

Karasik Law Group Continues Expanding Legal Support for Injured New Yorkers

New York City, New York Mar 5, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Karasik Law Group, a Brooklyn-based personal injury and medical malpractice law firm led by attorney Alexander Karasik, Esq., continues to expand its legal support for injured victims throughout New York City and New Jersey. With nearly two decades of litigation experience, the firm has built a strong reputation for representing individuals who have suffered serious injuries due to negligence, accidents, and unsafe conditions.

Operating from its office in Brooklyn, Karasik Law Group represents clients across all five boroughs of New York City, Brooklyn, Manhattan, Queens, the Bronx, and Staten Island, as well as neighboring communities in New Jersey. The firm focuses on helping injured individuals navigate complex legal claims while pursuing fair compensation for medical expenses, lost income, and long-term physical and emotional impacts.

Founded in 2007 by Alexander Karasik, the firm was established with a clear mission: to provide dedicated legal advocacy for people who have been harmed through no fault of their own. Over the years, the practice has grown into a respected litigation firm that handles a wide range of personal injury and medical malpractice cases.

“Injury victims often face overwhelming challenges after an accident,” said Alexander Karasik, founder of Karasik Law Group. “Medical bills, missed work, and uncertainty about the future can create significant stress for families. Our goal is to help our clients understand their legal rights and to fight for the compensation they deserve so they can focus on recovery.”

The firm handles a broad range of injury claims involving car accidents, truck collisions, construction site injuries, pedestrian accidents, slip and fall incidents, and medical malpractice. These cases often involve complex investigations, insurance negotiations, and litigation, requiring legal experience and careful preparation.

Motor vehicle accidents remain one of the most common causes of serious injuries in New York City. With thousands of vehicles traveling through busy city streets each day, collisions involving cars, trucks, buses, and rideshare vehicles occur frequently. Karasik Law Group represents drivers, passengers, pedestrians, and cyclists who have been injured in traffic accidents, helping them pursue compensation for medical treatment, rehabilitation, and other losses resulting from the crash.

Construction accidents also represent a significant portion of injury claims handled by the firm. New York City’s ongoing construction growth has increased the number of workplace accidents involving falls from heights, falling objects, equipment failures, and unsafe worksite conditions. Injured workers often rely on experienced legal counsel to understand their rights under New York labor laws and to pursue claims against negligent contractors or property owners.

In addition to accident-related injuries, the firm also represents individuals harmed by medical negligence. Medical malpractice cases may involve surgical errors, misdiagnoses, delayed diagnoses, birth injuries, or other failures to meet the accepted standard of care. These claims often require extensive review of medical records and consultation with expert witnesses to determine whether negligence occurred.

Karasik Law Group is known for its detailed case preparation and investigative approach. According to the firm, every case is prepared as if it may proceed to trial, a strategy that can strengthen negotiations with insurance companies and opposing parties. This preparation includes gathering evidence, reviewing medical documentation, consulting with experts, and carefully evaluating the long-term impact of injuries on the client’s life.

Another important aspect of the firm’s practice is accessibility. Karasik Law Group offers free consultations to individuals who believe they may have a legal claim. These consultations allow potential clients to discuss their situation with an attorney and receive guidance on possible legal options without financial risk.

The firm also operates on a contingency fee basis, meaning clients pay no legal fees unless compensation is successfully recovered in their case. This structure allows injured individuals to pursue justice without worrying about upfront legal costs.

“We believe everyone deserves access to strong legal representation,” Karasik said. “Working on a contingency basis allows people to pursue their claims even if they’re already dealing with financial pressure caused by medical bills or time away from work.”

Karasik Law Group places a strong emphasis on communication and personalized attention. Clients work directly with the legal team throughout the case process, receiving updates on the progress of their claims and guidance at each stage of litigation or settlement negotiations.

The firm also provides services in multiple languages to better serve New York City’s diverse communities. Attorneys and staff members can assist clients in English, Spanish, Russian, Uzbek, and Georgian, helping ensure clear communication for individuals seeking legal support.

In recent years, Karasik Law Group has helped numerous clients recover significant financial compensation following serious accidents and negligence-related injuries. While each case is unique and outcomes depend on specific circumstances, the firm’s track record includes substantial settlements and verdicts in personal injury and malpractice matters.

Beyond legal representation, the firm emphasizes its commitment to the communities it serves. As a Brooklyn-based practice, Karasik Law Group regularly works with residents across the city who are dealing with the consequences of accidents, workplace injuries, and medical errors.

“New York is a fast-moving city, and accidents can happen anywhere, from busy intersections to construction sites,” Karasik said. “Our responsibility as attorneys is to stand up for people when they need help the most.”

Individuals who have been injured in accidents or who believe they may have experienced medical negligence are encouraged to seek legal guidance as soon as possible. New York law imposes time limits on filing certain injury claims, and early legal consultation can help preserve evidence and protect a victim’s rights.

Karasik Law Group remains available 24 hours a day to assist individuals seeking information about potential legal claims. Those interested in learning more about their options can contact the firm directly to schedule a free case evaluation.

Media Contact

Karasik Law Group

*****@karasiklawyers.com

(929) 444-4444

3374 Shore Pkwy Floor 1

Source : Karasik Law Group

See on IssueWire