

Local Eco-Friendly Cleaning Company Expands Services to Cary, Apex, and Morrisville

Cary, North Carolina Mar 13, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Local Eco-Friendly Cleaning Company Expands Services to Cary, Apex, and Morrisville

A locally owned eco-friendly cleaning company is expanding its residential cleaning services into Cary, Apex, and Morrisville, bringing non-toxic cleaning solutions to more households across the Triangle.

ecomaid's of South Raleigh–Garner–Fuquay Varina, owned and operated by Carolina Silva, specializes in residential cleaning using environmentally responsible products and cleaning systems designed to support healthier indoor environments. The expansion reflects increasing demand across the region for cleaning services that prioritize both effectiveness and safety.

The company's approach focuses on reducing exposure to harsh chemicals commonly found in traditional cleaning products. ecomaid's uses EPA Safer Choice products and color-coded microfiber systems designed to help reduce cross-contamination between different areas of the home while delivering detailed and consistent results.

"Our goal is to help families maintain clean homes without relying on harsh chemicals," said Carolina Silva, owner of ecomaid's of South Raleigh–Garner–Fuquay Varina. "Many of our clients are parents, pet owners, or individuals with sensitivities who want a safer cleaning option that supports the health of their homes."

The company provides a range of residential cleaning services including initial deep cleanings, recurring weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly maintenance cleaning, and specialized services designed to help homeowners maintain a consistent level of cleanliness over time.

To celebrate the expansion into Cary, Apex, and Morrisville, the company is offering a limited-time promotion for new customers in those areas. Homeowners who enroll in recurring cleaning services will receive their fifth recurring cleaning free, regardless of whether they choose weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly service.

In addition to residential cleaning, the company also works with local preschools, offices, and small businesses throughout the Triangle. These services emphasize consistent cleaning routines, trained in-house teams, and the use of environmentally responsible products that support healthier shared spaces.

The expansion into Cary, Apex, and Morrisville allows the company to respond to growing interest from homeowners across western Wake County seeking professional cleaning services that align with eco-friendly and health-conscious values.

As a locally owned business, ecomaid's of South Raleigh–Garner–Fuquay Varina emphasizes building relationships within the communities it serves and supporting local organizations and businesses.

"Our focus is not only on providing reliable cleaning services but also on being part of the community," Carolina Silva said. "We're excited to expand into Cary, Apex, and Morrisville and bring our eco-friendly approach to more families in the Triangle."
