Irish-founded deck contractor with 25 years of experience offers custom deck construction and modern railing systems throughout southern Wisconsin

Madison, Wisconsin Mar 23, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Quigley Decks, a trusted deck contractor serving the Madison area, announces its focus on custom summer deck projects as homeowners prepare to maximize outdoor living spaces. With 25 years of experience building decks and installing modern railing systems, the company emphasizes that summer provides ideal weather for deck construction that will be ready for immediate enjoyment throughout the season.

Founded by Irish native Tim Quigley, the company has established itself as a reliable partner for homeowners seeking professional deck construction and custom railing services throughout Madison and surrounding communities in southern Wisconsin.

"Summer is when Wisconsin families truly live outdoors, and a well-built deck makes all the difference," said Tim Quigley, owner of Quigley Decks. "We help homeowners create outdoor spaces perfect for entertaining, family time, and enjoying our beautiful summer weather. Whether you're building a new deck or upgrading an old one, now's the time to get it done so you can use it all season long."

Quigley Decks specializes in custom deck construction tailored to individual properties, family needs, and aesthetic preferences. Whether homeowners envision simple platform decks for grilling and relaxing or complex multi-level structures with built-in seating and lighting, the company's quarter-century of experience enables the team to bring diverse visions to life.

Beyond deck construction, Quigley Decks offers specialized expertise in modern railing systems for both exterior and interior applications. The company provides cable, aluminum, and composite railing options, each offering distinct advantages for different applications and preferences.

Quigley's Irish background brings unique perspective to deck projects, infusing work with attention to detail and craftsmanship that clients consistently praise. His truthful, direct communication style ensures homeowners understand exactly what to expect throughout every project.

"I believe in keeping things honest and straightforward," Quigley said. "Homeowners deserve to know exactly what they're getting, what it will cost, and how long it will take. No surprises, no runarounds—just quality deck construction at fair prices with the kind of craftsmanship I'd want for my own home."

Summer deck projects include new deck construction for homes without outdoor spaces, deck replacement for aging or damaged structures, deck expansions adding square footage to existing structures, railing upgrades with modern cable or aluminum systems, and multi-level decks creating distinct outdoor zones.

Cable railing provides modern aesthetics and unobstructed views, perfect for properties where preserving sightlines matters. Aluminum railing offers virtually maintenance-free performance that Wisconsin homeowners appreciate, resisting rust and weathering. Composite railing combines traditional appearance with modern durability and low maintenance.

Quigley Decks' quarter-century of experience in Madison provides deep knowledge of local building requirements, regional climate considerations, and challenges that Wisconsin weather presents for outdoor structures. This expertise enables the company to recommend solutions delivering both immediate appeal and long-term durability.

The customer-focused philosophy ensures every project reflects both professional craftsmanship and individual homeowner preferences. The combination of humor and professionalism creates atmosphere where homeowners feel comfortable asking questions throughout planning and construction.

Summer construction timing allows families to enjoy completed decks immediately rather than waiting months for warmer weather. Quigley Decks works efficiently to complete projects quickly so homeowners can start using their new outdoor living spaces right away.
