

Saddle Up This Summer: Cali Camp Launches Unforgettable Horseback Riding Summer Camp Near LA for Kids Ages 8–14

Los Angeles' Premier Day Camp in Topanga Canyon Offers an Immersive Equestrian Experience Alongside Classic Camp Fun

Topanga, California Mar 30, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Cali Camp, one of Los Angeles' most beloved summer day camps and a Topanga Canyon institution since 1955, is now enrolling campers for its 2026 summer season. Families searching for a horseback riding summer camp near LA need look no further. Cali Camp's acclaimed Wrangler Camp program delivers a premium equestrian camp experience for kids ages 8–14, set against the breathtaking backdrop of the Santa Monica Mountains.

With seven decades of experience shaping young lives, Cali Camp has earned its reputation as the gold standard among day camps in Los Angeles with horseback riding. The Wrangler Camp specialty program goes far beyond a simple trail ride. Campers spend the first three periods of every day at the camp's dedicated horse area beneath the iconic Big Rock formation, where they receive hands-on instruction in English, Western, and bareback riding styles. The curriculum also covers essential horsemanship skills, including grooming, tacking, haltering, bathing, and feeding, giving children a well-rounded equestrian education that builds confidence and responsibility.

"Our Wrangler Camp is one of the most sought-after programs we offer, and it fills up fast every year," said a Cali Camp spokesperson. "Parents across Los Angeles are looking for meaningful summer experiences that get kids outdoors, off screens, and connected to nature. Horseback riding does all of that while also teaching patience, empathy, and discipline."

What sets this equestrian camp for kids ages 8–14 in LA apart is the seamless blend of riding instruction and traditional camp activities. After morning horse time, Wrangler campers join their peers for an action-packed afternoon that includes swimming, zip lines, go-karts, ropes courses, aerial arts, archery, arts and crafts, and much more. During quieter moments at the horse area, campers also enjoy time with the camp's resident goats, miniature donkeys, and rabbits—adding a heartwarming animal-care dimension to the experience.

Nestled in the rock-lined beauty of Topanga Canyon, Cali Camp offers a rare escape from the urban sprawl of Los Angeles. The camp welcomes children ages 4 through 15 across its Classic Camp, Wrangler Camp, and Junior Leaders programs, with the 2026 season running from June 15 through August 14. Flexible weekly enrollment allows families to sign up for one session or all nine weeks. Transportation options are available from neighborhoods throughout the greater Los Angeles area, making it one of the most accessible horseback riding summer camps near LA.

Cali Camp is accredited and committed to the highest standards of health, safety, sustainability, and gender inclusivity. Families interested in learning more are invited to attend one of the remaining 2026 Open House events on April 19 or May 17, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., where they can tour the grounds, meet staff, and try select camp activities firsthand.

Enrollment is open now. Spaces in Wrangler Camp are limited and expected to sell out quickly. To register or learn more, visit www.calicamp.com.
