

Virginia-Based SaaS Platform SiteGradePro Launches to Help Small Businesses Improve Website Performance Nationwide

Martinsville, Virginia Mar 5, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - SiteGradePro, a new website grading and performance analysis platform, has officially launched to help small businesses, startups, and entrepreneurs across the United States evaluate and improve their online presence.

Built to simplify website diagnostics, SiteGradePro delivers instant performance grading based on essential digital factors including search engine optimization (SEO), mobile responsiveness, page speed, security, accessibility, and user experience.

In today's competitive digital landscape, many small business owners struggle to understand why their websites fail to generate traffic, leads, or conversions. SiteGradePro addresses this challenge by translating technical website data into clear, actionable insights that business owners can understand and implement.

"Small businesses deserve clarity when it comes to their digital performance," said Kamelda Moore, founder of SiteGradePro and Kamelda's Designs LLC. "SiteGradePro was created to remove the confusion around website performance and give business owners a straightforward path to improvement."

Unlike complex enterprise-level auditing tools designed for developers, SiteGradePro focuses specifically on practical feedback for small and mid-sized businesses. The platform empowers users to quickly identify weaknesses and understand the steps needed to improve visibility and performance.

Key Features Include:

- Instant website performance grading

- SEO and mobile optimization analysis
- Page speed and usability checks
- Accessibility and security insights
- Actionable improvement recommendations
- Optional professional fix plans and consulting support

SiteGradePro is designed to serve entrepreneurs, ecommerce brands, service providers, nonprofits, and local businesses seeking affordable digital growth tools without the high costs associated with traditional agency retainers.

The platform is developed by Kamelda's Designs LLC, a Virginia-based digital agency established in 2007 specializing in web design, SEO setup, and small business digital strategy.
